B.C. Health Act Registration To Start Thursday

All British Columbians must register under the government's compulsory hospital insurance scheme by Sept. 15, Dr. J. M. Hersehy, commissioner of the hospital insurance service, announced today.

Whether or not they claim exemption from the service all British Columbians will be required to fill out the applications which will be mailed to all householders and others during the next few days. Registration formally begins Thursday.

First group to be registered will be made up of persons authorizing premium payments by the payroll deduction method. A special registration form has been prepared for this purpose and is being mailed to all companies who have signified their willingness to co-operate in registering their employees and in handling the business of payroll deduction payments.

Registration of the general public is expected to start in about 10 days and will be conducted by districts. The first areas to receive householder type application forms will be those of Vancouver Island, New Westminster and Vancouver.

Registration forms will subsequently be mailed to the remaining districts throughout the province.

The householder type of registration form is to be completed by those who have not already registered under the payroll deduction method. The applicants will be required to answer 13 questions and address the accompanying envelope, which carries prepaid postage, to the hospital insurance service office with which they wish to do business.

Enclosed with the registration form will be an instruction sheet listing the local hospital insurance offices.

Registration Compulsory For All

Dr. Hersehy noted that the registration is compulsory for all persons in British Columbia. But the individual should only register once, either with his employer on a payroll deduction basis or by using the householder type of form.

Subscribers to private hospital insurance schemes approved by the government's hospital insurance service, members of the Christian Science Church and those living in areas where provisions for general hospital service is not practical at the present time must register even though they may be exempted, Dr. Hershey said.

Persons in receipt of social assistance such as old-age pensioners and recipients of mothers' allowances and social allowances will also be required to register, but the provincial government will pay their fees.

In the case of members of the Christian Science Church the church itself will provide the government with a list of members to assist in granting exemptions.

Members of the permanent armed forces and persons individually entitled to complete hospital care under other official plans may be exempted provided general hospital care is equivalent to that afforded under the government's scheme. However, such persons will be required as heads of families to register and pay premiums on behalf of their wives or other dependents.

Dr. Hershey announced Tuesday that few associations or companies currently providing hospital insurance have been approved by the government. Subscribers to private plans, unless already notified, now may assume that they will be required to contribute to the government plan.

Blue Cross Soon To Withdraw

Among these is the Blue Cross which will retire from the hospital insurance service Dec. 31 of this year. It provided service to 160,000 members.

Dr. Hershey today pleaded for co-operation of the public in filling out the application forms and returning them by the Sept. 15 deadline.

While it will require an individual only a few minutes to fill out the application form, the hospital insurance service is faced with the tremendous task of classifying more than 1,000,000 applications and issuing hospital insurance cards by the time the plan comes into operation on next Jan. 1, he said.

"I feel sure," he said, "that everybody will willingly undertake to co-operate by promptly registering in order to insure that he and his dependents are covered by this date."

Premium rates have been set for three main groups: Single persons, 16 years of age and over who are supporting themselves financially and others classed as single persons will pay $15 per year; the head of a family with one dependent, a wife being classed as such, will pay $24 per year, and the head of a family with two or more dependents will pay $30 per year.

Dependents cover, in additional to a wife and children under 16 years of age, other members of a family group for whom the head of a family is responsible whether or not they are living under the same roof.

Full information regarding dependents is given on the instruction sheet, which accompanies each registration form.

Babe Ruth In Hospital In Critical Condition

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth, baseball's ailing home-run King, was reported in critical condition today at Memorial Hospital here.

The hospital said Ruth had developed a higher temperature and that there were pulmonary complications.

Monday he was reported as having a cold. Tuesday the hospital said his condition seemed improved and the temperature had gone down.

He has been ill for nearly two years. Late in 1946 he underwent a delicate neck operation. He left the hospital last year, and was seen in public on a few occasions. In the last few months he has attended baseball games where he received tributes from fans, old and young.

A Governor-General's grandson pays his first visit to Canada, the former seat of his grandfather's vice-regal residence. Artillery, Rifle Fire Ends Palestine Peace

JERUSALEM (AP)—Guns and artillery resounded from midnight to dawn today in the heaviest fighting here since the U.N. cease-fire was imposed.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator who said he was going to get tough in order to stop the shooting, was here and heard it all. The U.N. officer has put 50 more American and French observers on the job in an effort to restore peace.

(A Tel Aviv source close to the Israeli cabinet predicted New Jerusalem and its Arab quarters will be annexed to Israel within two weeks. He said the cabinet already has decided secretly to take the step. The Arabs hold the city, which is about a fourth of the total area.)

SHELLS AND FLARES

The unofficial battle reached its height in Jerusalem around 3 a.m. Rifle shots and automatic fire broke out by the thousand. Artillery, seemingly from a distance, was audible throughout the city. White and green flares lit up the sky so Arabs and Jews could spot their foes.

Official Jewish sources said Arabs "who continue to violate the truce" attacked Jewish positions on Mt. Zion from the old walled city.

Most fighting was in the nearby hills and outskirts. Many bullets whizzed through streets in the centre of town, however.

Count Bernadotte, after another warning to leading Jewish and Arab representatives, spent the night at a house on neutralized Mt. Scopus east of central Jerusalem. He planned to leave Palestine late today for headquarters on Rhodes. Col. Frank Begley, chief U.N. observer in Jerusalem, was to leave today for Lake Success to report on the local truce situation.

Questions Cost Of Hospital Insurance

"The front page news item in Tuesday's Times headlined 'Few Companies Qualify Under Hospital Scheme' leads your readers to believe that the provincial government has found a way to provide hospital benefits at a much lower rate than that charged by insurance companies," said J. Barraclough, district manager of the London Life Insurance Company today.

"Granted the direct charge for the plan will be lower than any company would have to charge for similar benefits but have the subsidy and the indirect charges which will support the plan, been forgotten?

"The rates charged by insurance companies must be based on actuarial facts and records after ample reserves have been set up to take care of emergencies. How could these charges compare favorably with those for a plan which does not adhere to the same regulations and which uses as its reserve the pocket of the taxpayers.

"Let the public have the facts about the total cost of the proposed government plan and maybe the insurance companies' services will not seem so costly after all."

R.C.M.P. Knows Nothing Of Spy Probers' Visit

OTTAWA (CP) — The R.C.M.P. has received no notification that a sub-committee of the United States Committee on Un-American Activities wants to interview Igor Gouzenko, the former Russian cipher clerk who disclosed the operations of a Soviet-directed espionage ring in Canada.

Deputy Commissioner C. K. Gray of the R.C.M.P said today the force had no official word that a sub-committee planned to see Gouzenko.

INQUIRY IN NEW YORK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee plans to send sub-committees to New York and Canada to question witnesses in its United States spy investigation.

This was disclosed today when the committee went into a closed-door session to discuss recessing its hearings here for at least 10 days or two weeks while the sub-committees are away.

Members said the sub-committee sent to New York will question Michael Ivanovitch Samarin and his wife.

They said the other sub-committee—possibly composed of only one man—will go to Ottawa or vicinity to get a statement from Igor Gouzenko, the former Russian clerk who was responsible for breaking the Canadian spy case.

QUICK ACTION

After the closed door session, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (Rep. N.J.) announced the sub-committee going to New York would leave tomorrow.

Thomas had nothing official to announce about the proposed dispatch of a sub-committee to Canada, but other members said it is "in the works."

Ask Province Help In Business Tax

VANCOUVER (CP) — The city council here is seeking provincial government aid for a way out of its business tax problem.

First the council's comptroller's department will survey the tax lists to find out the over-all effect of the new civic 11 per cent tax and report its "recommendations."

Ald. Halford Wilson moving in council for a cabinet interview said "the tax . . has glaring inequalities."

Just Tar, No Feathers

Seven pieces of city emergency equipment were required to rescue Eugene Donahue, 64, of St. Louis, Mo., when he awoke to find himself up to the neck in a tar pit. Donahue, who was unable to tell how or when he got into the sticky predicament, was rushed to a hospital, where a scraping and cleaning job was carried out.—(NEA Telephoto)

U.S. Newspapers Reveal $250,000,000 Project In Northland Defence

WASHINGTON (CP)—A projected $250,000,000 radar defence network across northern Canada and Alaska is reported and approved in the leading editorial of today's Times-Herald.

The other morning newspaper, the Washington Post, used half an editorial column to eulogize Canada's new Liberal leader, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, and describe him as "an ardent supporter" of the proposal of "a North Atlantic union."

The Times-Herald editorial, accompanied by a polar map, says the latest Canadian-United States joint-defence move under consideration is a giant radar network across the Artic region.

It reports that the studies are being made by Dr. Vannevar Bush, head of United States defence research, and Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Canadian Defence Research Board.

25,000 MEN NEEDED

The estimated cost, $250,000,000, the paper says, is about twice the cost of two super-carriers, and the network would require 25,000 men to operate.

"This investment should add up to some fairly reliable insurance against a surprise attack which might wreck most of our industrial cities between breakfast and lunch some day," the Times-Herald comments.

"A U.S.-Canada radar network, big enough and well enough manned to do a complete job, looks like a commonsense measure for the defence of both countries and cheap at the price. Let's get on with it."

IMPORTANT AREA

The Post comments that United States' "immediate concern lies" in the Arctic region which is Canada's backyard. It adds that concern is sometimes expressed in relations with Canada "in a way that is perhaps more impetuous than wise."

Such an attitude "may be offensive even to a friend," the Post editorial continues.

"The Canadians are natural collaborators in strategy and the accent in negotiations must always be on collaboration."

$40,000 Building Planned For Yates

A $40,000 one-story building housing two stores and offices of the Blue Line Taxi Ltd. is planned at 740 Yates Street by P. B. Scurrah of Scurrah's Ltd., women's clothing store, at nearby 728 Yates Street.

"The property has been an eyesore but we propose to remedy that with a modern, good-looking building," Mr. Scurrah said today.

He hopes to have the building completed by the end of the year. Tenders will be called for in a week's time and it is hoped construction will be started by Sept. 1.

The building will have a flower store and a candy store. It will have cut-in windows with a vitrolight front.

The building will have a frontage of 39 feet on Yates Street and will extend back from the street 100 feet.

Mayor Of Prague Flees Czechoslovakia

Soviet Anti-Aircraft Fire Hits Near U.S. Food Plane

BERLIN (CP) — Anti-aircraft shells bursting Tuesday in the American air corridor between 8,000 and 10,000 feet were reported by the pilot of a United States Skymaster flying supplies into Berlin, it was disclosed today. Authorities were studying his report and it has not yet been decided whether an official protest will be made to the Russians.

The pilot said the shells burst "at a comfortable distance from my plane" but well inside the corridor. In the same vicinity he saw several Russian planes towing targets.

PROTEST ON YAKS

The report followed announcement by British authorities that they were planning a formal protest to the Russians against a flight of Soviet Yak fighter planes over western Berlin Tuesday night

Air Commodore R. N. White, chief of the R.A.F. at the Gatow airport, said the protest would be submitted through the four-power Berlin Air Safety Centre.

NO 'BUZZING'

Officers at Gatow said the planes, flying in two formations, were at 4,000 feet and that there was no question of "buzzing" the area.

Meanwhile the Russians claimed they had accumulated enough food here to feed the city for 40 days. But complaints about hunger came from the surrounding Soviet Zone.

There have been repeated reports, not denied by the Russians, that food shortages in their zone have become aggravated. The major cause for this is believed to have been the requisitioning of zonal foodstuffs to support the Soviet project to feed all Berlin, including the blockaded western sectors.

Scores Of Whales Thrill Sea Cadets In Open Boats

Thirty-two adventure-seeking sea cadets got all the adventure they were looking for Tuesday evening when they ran into a school of blackfish during a 24-hour voyage in open boats.

The cadets were on "Operation Shipwreck," a part of their sea cadet instructors' course at the Canadian Services College, H.M.C.S. Royal Roads.

Sailing in 32-foot naval cutters, the cadets were looking for a campsite near William Head in the Juan de Fuca Strait when their craft were suddenly surrounded by the active little whales.

"At first there were just one or two," said Gerald Waugh of Verdun, Quebec, "but inside of 15 minutes, there must have been 40 or 50 around us."

David Fowler, of Welland, Ontario, said one of them surfaced right alongside. "His dorsal fin was higher than our heads."

"A big one passed right under our boat," said Walter Pickering of Prince Albert, Sask., "we could see them pretty clearly about six feet down. When they passed, the water around the boat boiled with little whirlpools."

And apparently the Pacific coast has got it all over the Atlantic, for W. A. Davey, who comes from Charlottetown, P.E.I., who has seen whales before, admitted he had never seen so many at one time.

The cadets on the cruise were selected from among Canada's 6,500 sea cadets to take special instructor training at the Royal Roads.

Hearings Start Soon On B.C.E. Rates

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, reported today that the hearings into the rate structures for the various B.C. Electric services would open in Vancouver Aug. 25.

Later the three-man commission will hold hearings in Victoria, he said.

To be considered by the board will be the rates charged by the B.C. Electric and its numerous subsidiaries and affiliates for its electric power, transportation and domestic gas and other services. Also to come under review will be the interim increases in transportation and domestic gas rates granted by the commission this year for Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria.

The hearings, planned for some months, are expected to be lengthy.

Michell, Valley View Farm, Keating, in commemoration of their parents who came to Saanich in the early 60's and who were ardent workers in the Agricultural Society for many years.

The boys' and girls' sports are being revived at the Saanich Fair on Labor Day. The events, 19 in number, will be under the direction of the Saanichton Community Club and the committee in charge have invited all boys and girls from Sidney and the Saanich peninsula generally to take part. Allowed Lot Lease Near Lumber Mill

PORT ALBERNI—Permission to lease a waterfront lot adjacent to the Tidewater Lumber Mill here which the company recently acquired, was given to Gibson Bros. Ltd., by the city council.

The city was advised by J. Gordon Gibson, general manager, that approval of the lease had been obtained from the Port Alberni Harbor Commission, but that city permission was necessary because the city was the foreshore owner.

The company also applied for permission to purchase property lying between Melrose and Montrose Streets, to use the land for fill material and as a site for a secondary industry. Since council had planned to rezone the area for commercial purposes, the company will be asked for details of its intentions.

Observant Officer Causes C.P. Express Transport Headache

City police commissioners could offer J. E. Doe, local agent for the C.P. Express Co. little hope of helping him out in the problem of being able to use more than one trailer to transport mail from the C.P.R. docks to the E. & N. trains, when the agent met the board Tuesday.

In June Constable Lorne Shandley gave C.P.R. driver John S. McMaster a ticket for violating the Highway Act in pulling more than one trailer with mail behind a vehicle. The act makes it unlawful to have more than one trailer or half-trailer hauled by a vehicle.

In police court the company pleaded guilty and was fined $15.

It was pointed out more than one trailer had been used for 20 years, but an alert constable who knew his Highway Act had stepped in to do his duty.

Acting Chief of Police J. Blackstock said the first he knew of it was when the matter came before the court. The company, he said, had not been given a warning to stop the practice.

'BIT OR HARSH TREATMENT'

Mayor P. E. George was joined with Commissioner James Neely in that this had been a "bit of harsh treatment" when the practice had been allowed for so long unchallenged.

Commissioner B. J. Gadsden saw it this way: "They were breaking the law and that should be enough."

Mr. Doe said it was now taking eight trips a day to do the cartage as a result of the action. Before with the use of three to five trailers, only two trips a day were necessary. The one-trailer system was much more expensive, he added.

Route, he said, was along Belleville, up Government and along Wharf to the E. & N. trains. The situation had become more expensive and added to traffic congestion with the more runs.

"There has never been an accident with the trailers in my 12 years at the game," said Mr. Doe, who considered this transporting as part of national through-traffic system.

Commission agreed it could not close its eyes and let one company break the law. Other firms would follow suit. The patrolman in question had only done his duty, which was to know where the law was being broken, nationally, provincialy and munipally.

Mr. Doe was asked to present his case to the commission in writing. The board promised then to take up the matter with the Attorney-General's department. In the meantime the commission will find out how the situation is handled in other cities governed by the same law.

New-Type Playground Suggested To Mayor

George E. Knight, 2659 Rose Street, has a new idea for keeping children off the streets.

In a letter to Mayor Percy George, Mr. Knight suggests that the city follow the lead of Norway and Denmark in providing "junk yard" playgrounds for the youngsters.

In those countries, Mr. Knight writes, wornout streetcars, old automobiles and obsolete aircraft are placed on vacant property. Tools are available for older youngsters who use lumber, bricks, barrels and other material made available.

The lots are proving popular with the children and with adequate supervision can be most instructive, Mr. Knight says.

A $25 reward was offered by the Victoria S.P.C.A. today for information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals who damaged the society's animal shelter under construction at Wilson and Tyee Roads on the Industrial Reserve.

Seven windows were smashed over last week-end in the new stucco building which is nearing completion and which will be used to house unwanted and lost animals.

Emissary Reported Posted To China

OTTAWA (CP)—The emissary who has figured in more controversial headlines than anyone else along Ottawa's diplomatic row was reported Tuesday going to a new post in China.

He is Dr. Juan Carlos Rodriguez, the $75,000-a-year Argentine ambassador who has been in the news about dogs and duels and a clerk who couldn't keep away from guns.

Reliable reports said he has been recalled, although there was no official confirmation. The External Affairs Department said it knew only that Dr. Rodriguez had checked out for his annual vacation.

The embassy itself said the only thing it knew was that the second secretary, G. Eduardo Leguizamon, is going to San Salvador.

He is survived by his wife, living at the Russell Street address, one sister living in Windsor and a brother living in Toronto.

Funeral services will be held from McCall Bros. Floral Funeral Chapel Friday afternoon at 3. Interment will take place at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Nelson Electricians Get 35 Per Cent Boost

NELSON (CP)—A walkout of city electrical workers has been averted. Local 1003, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the city have come to an agreement on a 35 per cent wage increase dispute, it was announced.

The new wage scale will be retroactive to April 1.

A council meeting Monday night agreed to the wage boost awarded by a conciliation board here June 17. Union representatives were informed of the move Tuesday and accepted.

Written acceptance has yet to be made, but the matter is considered closed in both quarters.

The city raised its offer from the original of 15 and a second of 20 per cent.

U.S. Steps To Increase Interest Ultimately May Affect Canada

By CANADIAN PRESS

The United States has taken two recent steps designed to increase interest rates, or the cost of borrowing money.

The steps are a continuance of a policy in effect in both the United States and Canada since late last year. Both countries have stated, however, they are not going to do anything drastic —at least not for the present.

The most notable step taken in Canada was the action of the Bank of Canada in January and February in reducing the price at which it will buy government bonds. This has the effect of raising interest rates, and the Canadian action followed an earlier one in the United States.

LOOKING TO FUTURE

The two recent United States steps, however, do not seem likely to have exact parallels in Canada, except that any influence toward higher interest rates there is likely to be felt here ultimately.

One of the United States steps is to increase the interest rate on one-year government certificates from 1⅛ per cent to 1¼ per cent; and a one-year refunding Oct. 1 for $7,000,000,000 will be at the new rate.

The effect will be to make them more attractive to banks. If banks can get ⅛ of 1 per cent more on government certificates, they will raise their rates accordingly to private borrowers.

In another U.S. action the Federal Reserve Bank is empowered to ask its member banks for higher cash deposits loans which they make. This has the effect of reducing the amount of money which private banks have available for lending. It is considered unlikely Canada would adopt this procedure.

The New York Stock Exchange Tuesday dropped to its lowest average level in three months and Canadian exchanges were mildly off. Wheat made some gains in Chicago, but other grains were mostly off both there and in Winnipeg.

Dominion Chairman Of Legion To Open New Veterans' Club

The "splicing of the main brace" will mark the official opening of the new home of the Naval Veterans' Branch No. 42, Canadian Legion, tonight.

The new premises, among the most modern for a veterans' club in Canada, are situated at 1417 Broad Street. A. E. Moore, Dominion chairman of the Canadian Legion, will open the building at 8.

There are ample recreational facilities for the club's 950 members in the new $67,000 structure. A large basement games room has a bowling alley, billiard table and card tables, while men's and women's lounges, and reading rooms, kitchenette, board room plus an auditorium which seats 300.

LONG SERVICE

Much of the credit for the completion of the new club, which was started in October of last year, goes to J. J. Wittcomb, executive members state.

A member of the Naval Veterans since 1926, he has served five terms as president, 11 years as treasurer and is currently chairman of the building committee.

Guests at the opening ceremonies will include Mayor Percy George, Admiral P. W. Nelles and Legion officials. Dedication of the building will be by Rev. William Hills, with benediction to be read by Monsignor A. D Wood.

C.M.S. Claims Loss

OTTAWA (CP)—The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company Tuesday presented records to the prices commission showing the firm lost $62,989 on Canadian fertilizer sales in the first six months of this year.

Company officers testified, however, that profitable export sales offset the loss on domestic sales.

The company was represented by two officials, Robert Hendricks, assistant to the president, and R. Ruickbie, manager of the chemical fertilizer division. The firm produces ammonium phosphate, ammonium sulphate and nitraprills, all used as fertilizers.

Aussie Law To Nationalize Banks Declared Invalid

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—The six-man Australian High Court today declared invalid the Australian government's plans for nationalizing private banks embodied in an act passed last October.

Sir John Latham, chief justice, made an order restraining the Commonwealth from putting the act into effect. He also ordered the government to pay the costs of the case.

Prime Minister Chifley refused any comment on the judgment, pending a report by the federal attorney-general's department. The act would have put all Australian banking into the hands of the government-owned Commonwealth Bank.

The challenge against the government's plan was brought by the States of Victoria, South Australia and Western Australia, and eight Australian and three British banks.

The court ruled the bill out, citing sections 5 and 92 of the Commonwealth constitution.

Section 5 gives commonwealth government the right to acquire property for purposes on which the government has authority to make laws, but section 92 says that trade between the states shall be absolutely free.

The section of the Bank Act of 1947 which authorizes the Commonwealth Bank to take over management of private trading banks by displacing the present directors and replacing them with new directors was also held invalid.

JUDGE DISSENTS

With one judge dissenting, the six-judge court also held that legislation providing for compulsory acquisition of a bank's assets is invalid.

Chief Justice Sir John Latham said he ruled invalid the section dealing with the acquisition of a bank's assets only because the legislation did not provide just terms.

The case was the longest in Australian court history. The original hearing was in Melbourne and later in Sydney. It lasted from Feb. 10 to April 15. Dr. Herbert Evatt, federal attorney-general, took 17 days to sum up the case.

Legion Members To Hear Dominion Chairman Talk

A. E. Moore, Dominion chairman of the Canadian Legion, will address a meeting of all members of the legion in Victoria Thursday evening at 8 in the auditorium of the Britannia Branch.

Sulphuric Acid Plant To Use Smelter Smoke

TACOMA (AP)—Plans for the erection of a new $1,000,000 sulphuric acid plant here were announced Tuesday by E. R. Marble, Tacoma manager of the American Smelting and Refining Co.

Clearing and construction work will start immediately on smelter property along Tacoma's waterfront. The plant is expected to open early in 1950.

A rated capacity of sulphuric acid, basic to many industries in the chemical field, is expected to exceed 100 tons daily.

The new plant will utilize sulphur dioxide which now escapes from the smokestack, and because of this "the plant should be a factor in alleviating the present heavy smoke situation in the area," Marble said.

Life has Changed for the Family Man

Most men live longer than their grandfathers. Women have a better life expectancy, too. So have children — not only that, but children nowadays spend more of their years getting an education.
These facts have brought significant changes in the family man's financial obligations. They mean that he must be prepared to support everyone in his family longer — including himself!
Fortunately, there is an effective way of meeting financial obligations of this nature — a well-planned insurance programme. Life insurance is a sure means by which a man can provide protection for his family in the event of his death or an income for himself should he live to retirement age.
The family man is wise to review his insurance requirements in view of changing conditions. If you would like expert advice, a representative of the Manufacturers Life will be glad to give it to you.

Whaley Beats Eisenhower To Gain Semis In Seniors' Golf

Four-time champion Ralph Whaley of Seattle hurdled a big obstacle in his path to another Seniors Northwest Golf Association championship at the Victoria Golf Club today when he defeated E. N. Eisenhower of Tacoma 2 and 1 to gain the semifinals of the 26th annual tournament.

A. S. G. Musgrave was the lone Victorian remaining in the grand championship after today's quarterfinals. He won his match from Roy Wood, Portland, 1 up. In the other two engagements medalist Gerry McManams, Seattle, had an easy time, winning 5 and 4 from A. E. Jukes, Vancouver, while Roy Campbell, Seattle, eliminated R. Macleod, Victoria, 3 and 2.

Shooting three under par golf on the second nine earned Whaley his triumph. The Seattle star was one down at the ninth after the lead had exchanged hands several times.

After halving the 10th and 11th Whaley squared the match with a birdie four on the 12th. Three putts cost Eisenhower the short 13th as Whaley went ahead to stay. A birdie deuce at the 14th gave the defending champion a two-hole margin. Eisenhower rallied to take the 15th but Whaley regained his two-hole lead with a birdie three at the 16th. When the pair halved the 17th the match was all over.

In tomorrow's semifinals Whaley meets Musgrave and McManama engages Campbell.

Mainlanders Urge C.N.S.S. Again Link Victoria, Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — A one-man committee of the city council here will approach the Canadian National Steamships to reopen its Vancouver Island service. Ald. Sam Cromie is the representative.

Ald. R. K. Gervin at a council meeting Tuesday night called the Canadian Pacific steamship service to Victoria "disgraceful." He charged the Canadian Pacific was failing to provide fast ships to speed service across the gulf.

"If the public transportation system in Vancouver operated in this way, we as a council would have the responsibility of rectifying the situation," he said.

Ald. Halford Wilson suggested the Canadian National, which discontinued its service in the 30's, operate on the same route.

British Grain Yield Higher

LONDON (Reuter)—The Ministry of Agriculture forecast Tuesday night grain yields in England and Wales will be higher this year than last and higher than the 10-year average for 1938-1947.

The forecasts are based on prospects at the end of July.

"Storms and heavy rains since that date have caused damage to the crops and next month's forecasts are likely to be lower unless the weather soon changes for the better," the ministry stated.

William Laing Dies

In 1901 he joined the government binding staff and was a member until his retirement in July, 1942.

Truman Helps Reunite Them

After 20 years of heartbreak and red tape, Kurt Schweim, 42, of San Bernardino, Calif., was reunited with his mother at New York's LaGuardia Airport, after President Truman and State Department officials had helped. Schweim went to the United States from Berlin in 1928, planning to send for his mother when he had enough money. But the depression, Hitler and the war—in which Mrs. Martha Schweim lost her credentials—stopped him. Two months ago, he appealed directly to President Truman, and now the two are together.

Hero Faces Deportation From U.S.

Dr. Perfecto M. Biason, left, is receiving the U.S. Medal of Freedom from Maj.-Gen. John P. Lucas in Chicago, with his daughter Joan, 15, watching, but he still faces deportation. During the war the courageous Filipino saved the lives of many U.S. soldiers on Luzon by hiding them from the Japs. But he's in the U.S. on a temporary visa, and Congress has not yet acted on a bill to let him stay permanently.

Third and fourth places went to teams from the Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver, with 365 and the Winnipeg Light Infantry with 363.

Lt. G. F. Rogers of Charlottetown, P.E.I., won the Connaught match silverware in a sudden-death elimination.

He still had lifts known as the snatch and jerk to perform.

Stanley A. Stanczyk of the United States then set up a new Olympic record with a press of 286½ pounds. The old record was 242½ pounds.

Entering the snatch, Varaleau was second to Stanczyk while third was H. T. Sakata of the United States with 232½.

Denies Marshall Threatened To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman denied Tuesday that Secretary of State Marshall had threatened to resign because of a differnce of opinion over the policy of the U.S. toward Israel.

The New York Star had published a story that the President and Marshall were split over American policy and that Marshall had threatened to quit.

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, said the report "certainly is news to me" when told of it. Later, after checking with the President, he said the President flatly denied the story.

OTTAWA (CP)—The right of teachers to hold public office today came up for discussion at the Canadian Teachers' Federation convention here.

Gilbert Eamer of Saskatoon, secretary of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation, noted that in his province three members of the present cabinet were active teachers.

"The only restriction barring a teacher from public office is that he can't be a member of his own school board," said Mr. Eamer.

WHERE ARE WE HEADING?

TWO NEWS ITEMS WHICH APPEARED on the front page of this newspaper on Monday were headed "Mayor predicts seven mill boost in city taxes rate," and "Living costs soar to historic peak."

Nothing in the detailed explanation of these headings could, by any stretch of the imagination, dilute their frightening implications. What naturally will occur to the average layman is that when pressure groups—and no political party adherents can absolve themselves of their guilt in this respect—began to importune the national government against the advice of such a Canadian economist as Mr. Donald Gordon, they were paving the way for the condition which has reduced the value of the Canadian dollar to approximately 50 cents.

Whether we like it or not, we, as Canadians, must recognize the basic fact that in our national economy only two groups have retained advantages. They are Organized Capital and Organized Labor. This means, if it means anything at all, that a vast group of unorganized persons is now finding itself in the grip of a pernicious squeeze play which, sooner or later, is bound to produce in this country a rebellious state of mind—with a concomitant influence that is not pleasant to contemplate.

Let us consider the following situation: For instance, we are told that the industrial expansion program in Canada during the current fiscal year might involve the expenditure of approximately $3,000,000,000, and that this is being carried out during a period of relatively full employment. But statistical evidence indicates that the volume of personal savings is decreasing, that individuals and certain industrial groups are liquidating their holdings to make up for delayed purchases, and that to offset the alarming rise in prices, much of the plant expansion program this year is being based far more on bank credits allowable and on certain deposits, than directly from offsetting savings or reserves. Nor can it be denied that stock piles of many factories have reached a volume and value exceeding prewar days. Finally, it is apparent that term installment purchases are being renewed on a basis which is definitely contrary to sound economics—particularly at a time of inflation when some forms of buying, conceivably, might create serious reactions.

Nothing we have said in the foregoing is based on a layman's dogmatism; but when the people of Victoria learn by a statement from Mayor George that the increase in wages of municipal servants may oblige the municipal treasurer to add six or seven mills to next year's tax rate, a situation presents itself which demands the earnest consideration of every citizen of this capital city. To be sure, the increase in the cost of living is reflected by the statement from Ottawa and lends force to the demand for more salary for civic employees. But the point we wish to make emphatically is that if ever there were a time when storm warnings should be heeded, that time is assuredly now.

W. A. McADAM, C.M.G.

ON AN AUGUST DAY IN 1923 A YOUNG man and his wife and two children left Victoria to begin a new life in the hub of the British Empire—namely, London. The young man was Mr. W. A. McAdam, a native of Manchester who had come out to Vancouver Island to take a job with a well-known Canadian banking institution, but whose abilities attracted the attention of the Provincial Government of that day. He had a flair for publicity which he thought the province of his adoption might use to its advantage. The ensuing years have proved him right.

Thousands of Canadians, regardless of their racial origin, or whether they lived in British Columbia, in the Prairie Provinces, or any other part of Canada, have, from time to time, found it necessary or desirable to call at British Columbia House in Lower Regent Street in their quest for some form of information or assistance. At various stages between August 12, 1923, and August 12, 1948, the services of Mr. McAdam have been utilized by literally tens of thousands of Canadians from every part of the Dominion.

We recall this bit of history because of the efficient manner in which Mr. McAdam has served British Columbia. His first assignment to the provincial agency in London was that of secretary to the late Mr. F. C. Wade, K.C., a former editor of the Vancouver Daily Sun. During the period between 1924, when Mr. Wade died, and the year of his appointment to the job for which he was suited, Mr. McAdam was saddled with the task of training other Agents-General in their duties in the British metropolis. This is not to cast any reflection on those who occupied the premier position at British Columbia House between the end of 1924 and the day on which Mr. McAdam was translated from Acting Agent-General to Agent-General in fact. It is merely to emphasize the numerous difficulties which over many years confronted this province's distinguished representative in the Empire's capital.

Indeed, on this 25th anniversary of Mr. McAdam's service, not forgetting the fact that he stuck to his post during the great blitz, it is small wonder that his patience, his capacity for work, and his loyalty to the province of his adoption did not crack under the strain which the events of a quarter of a century imposed upon him. British Columbians in particular, and Canadians in general, will tomorrow be extending their congratulations to Mr. William McAdam, C.M.G., on the manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office—which cannot by the measure of any yardstick, be considered a sinecure. To these congratulations the Victoria Daily Times adds its own.

ROMANIA FIRST?

REPORTS BY REFUGEES FROM Romania that a plebiscite is being arranged for Aug. 23 to determine whether that country should become a member of the Soviet Union are not unexpected. Observers of international developments have predicted ever since Russia formed her satellite group about her eastern borders that the eventual plan would be to incorporate these lands into the territory of the U.S.S.R. Certain recent scufflings behind the iron curtain—notably the Yugoslav incident—must have made it plain to Moscow that the sooner the bond of Soviet nationalism is clamped on the satellite countries the better. Then claims to freedom can be denounced as treason rather than mere unruliness; and any attempt by the people to run the countries as they themselves might wish it—if such were in opposition to Communist views—could be stamped out with the excuse of preserving national unity instead of the less defensible motive of coercing the citizens of a neighboring state.

In this regard, the same refugee sources reveal that Russian troop establishments around Bucharest have been strengthened, virtually surrounding the Romanian capital. Although the general elections of last March gave the Communist-dominated government bloc parties 92 per cent of the vote, the Kremlin organizers evidently fear that such support may not still exist—if it ever did in fact. But no man can properly exercise the democratic franchise with a bayonet at his back, or a vision of the salt mines before him. And even if the Romanian plebiscite gives the nearly 100 per cent favorable vote which features all Communist-sponsored ballots—and which, queerly enough, marked most of the Nazi-controlled elections—we will still believe that the Romanian people did not voluntarily sell themselves and their nation for a mess of very dubiously-cooked pottage.

TO NEW RESPONSIBILITIES

DURING THE PAST FIVE YEARS Canadians have had an opportunity to come in contact with Hon. Ray Atherton, the first United States ambassador to be appointed to Canada. They will have learned with personal regret that he has now resigned that post to become an alternate delegate of his country at the forthcoming General Assembly of the United Nations in Paris. Mr. Atherton's arrival in Ottawa in July, 1943, as Minister to Canada, and his elevation to the rank of ambassador four months later, marked the recognition by our neighbor to the south that the Dominion had achieved a world position demanding top-level ability and authority on the part of foreign representatives. That Mr. Atherton has combined these two qualities in his successful tenure of office in the Canadian capital goes without saying—his loss both professionally and socially from the diplomatic circles of this country will be felt beyond the confines of Parliament Hill.

Victorians will recall the American ambassador's visit here in August, 1944, in the course of a trans-Canada tour. At that time the war effort was about to be increased in the Pacific theatre, and the visitor's penetrating comments on future possibilities showed the results of his experience in diplomatic posts in Tokyo, Peking, Washington, Athens, London and in Bulgaria, Denmark and other countries. His successor will find the path well charted and firm friendships already made for United States representatives. To Mr. Atherton, taking up his new international responsibilities, will go the best of wishes from the people of this country.

SECURITY FOR ALL

THE SMALL RESPONSE BY PRIVATE companies to the provincial government's request to submit details of their hospital insurance schemes for official approval indicates that most residents of British Columbia will come under the government plan at its inception next Jan. 1. Under the new regulations, private companies' arrangements for hospital care of subscribers had to equal in benefits and economy the plan sponsored by the province.

Few have so qualified, and among those organizations which will close their books on this phase of group insurance at the end of the year will be the Blue Cross. This continent-wide, non-profit agency catered to about 160,000 residents of the province and since starting business here in 1944 has paid out $3,000,000 in hospital benefits. The government plan, however, will extend such services to every citizen, rather than only to those who were able to participate through their places of employment, and a general advantage should accrue not only to the public but to the hospitals whose facilities are so much in demand.

We demand "security," yet most of us spend as we get, and two weeks without pay would make us beggars.

Stones Of Mystery

By Brian Vesey-FitzGerald

STONEHENGE is on Salisbury Plain, and it is to the Englishman very much what the Tower of London is to the Cockney. Everyone has heard of it, everyone is rather proud of it, but you hardly ever meet anyone who has been there.

And if that is true of Stonehenge—and it is true—it is a thousand times more true of Avebury, and not nearly so many people have heard of it, either, even though it, too, is world-famous—to archaeologists, at any rate, for it is the largest megalithic monument in Europe.

WILTSHIRE is the navel of all the chalk country of England; but the Wiltshire chalk is itself divided into two by the golden Vale of Pewsey. South of the vale lies Salisbury Plain, and north lie the Marlborough Downs. Stonehenge was the capital of the southern part as Avebury was the capital of the northern. The queer thing is that Stonehenge is still the capital of southern Wiltshire and Avebury is still the capital of northern Wiltshire, though nobody lives at Stonehenge and Avebury is but a tiny village. The land falls naturally to them, and they alone fit naturally the nakedness of downland.

I think Stonehenge disappoints most people when they first see it. There are so many pictures of it, and you hear such a lot about the size of it and the hugeness of its stones, and then you come over the crest of the rise—in a car, probably—and there it is before you, quite a distance away and a little below you, and it looks small, and brownish-grey, and anything but imposing. The plain is so huge and empty, and the sky is illimitable, as wide as the world.

IN FACT, OF COURSE, it is a miracle that it stands at all, an even greater miracle that it stands in something like suitable isolation. Once, indeed, military buildings almost ringed it round. They have gone now, and it is properly cared for by the State, and little stone pillars have been put up where great stones used to stand, so that you can see pretty well what the whole plan was.

There is a spell about this. You would not think so when you first see it, banded on either side by the blue-grey ribbon of main road, and with that white car-park and the little pay-box. But as you walk towards it, it grows, and the stones do become huge, and the roads fade away, and the noise of the traffic dies, and, suddenly, you are in a temple and you are very small and isolated. It startles and subdues.

THE HUMAN SIGNIFICANCE is there, as eloquent as the ruins of a castle, but the fashioning of it, the thoughts and the motives that conceived it are so remote, so far removed from anything that we can understand. We can understand a little about the Romans, the Saxons, the Normans, but this—this belongs to the blank in history. We may marvel at the magic which conveyed from afar and reared up these mighty stones, yet the physical side of that presents but little difficulty.

All the largest stones are sarsen—that is a type of stone, as granite is—and at the very furthest they came from the Marlborough Downs. The other stones came from the Prescelly Hills in Pembrokeshire, far away on the rim of Wales, but they are comparatively small stones, and the difficulty of bringing them to this bare spot on the chalk would not have been much of a problem to a people talented enough to plan so great a monument as this.

TALENTED? No, no, that is altogether the wrong word. More, much more, than mere talent. It may have been accidental—it may not have been intentional—but you cannot deny that a line drawn between the two uprights of the central and tallest arch to the centre of the circle cuts the altar stone at right angles and runs almost centrally down the avenue, and then cuts the horizon on Lark Hill just at the point where the sun is seen to rise on Midsummer's Day, by anyone standing on the southwest of the circle and looking to the northeast. The rising sun is then seen framed between the uprights.

IT IS NOT quite accurate now—it is a fraction of an inch out of the true—but that is due to the movement of the earth since Stonehenge was planned. When it was built, the line to the rising sun was dead accurate. Well, it may have been accidental—you can believe that if you like—but if it was, then this is the most miraculous coincidence in the history of the world. Oh no, it was designed intentionally. For, remember, they had no calendar, no writing, and they thought the earth was flat. And at this, we may marvel indeed.

But all that is as nothing to the secrets that are locked away in these stones that were hewn and raised by a people of whom we know nothing. History? There is history enough and to spare—and more of conjecture, conjecture and guesswork mostly.

MORE THAN 1,000 books and papers have been published about Stonehenge, but still we know nothing of the men who did this work that is so impressively permanent, nor of the gods—oh, I know that they must have worshipped the sun, that seems evident; but what else? Was all this planned just for the Midsummer's dawn?—nor of the gods, let me repeat, for whom they built so well, though we may still feel a spirit in the wrinkled, lichened stones, and know them to be alive when the mists swirl in the chill twilight.

You will not get me to admit that I am a Red baiter or that I am a Communist.—Henry A. Wallace.

American King Solomon In Reverse

The Kremlin And Berlin

By BURTON S. HEATH From New York

A SIGNIFICANT aspect of the Western Powers' retaliation against Russia in Berlin is its timing. It came the day after General Clay returned to Frankfurt.

GETTING TOUGHER

General Clay, United States military governor in Germany, was called to Washington to consult with the President, State Department officials and bright Army brass. Communists said he had been brought back to be spanked for being too tough. But the pudding's proof is in its flavor. The general was brought back to discuss the mechanics of getting tougher.

Obviously the idea of cutting Soviet rail lines to western Europe—to France, Italy, the Benelux countries, Scandinavia, and her best customer Switzerland—was not hatched overnight. It was not adopted without full consideration of all its implications. Whoever suggested it, the step had first to be approved up to and including the White House.

Nobody will doubt—least of all the realistic gentlemen in the Kremlin—that it was a measure of reprisal. The "technical difficulties" cited probably do exist, but they would not have been compelling if Russia had not used "technical difficulties" as a "diplomatic" excuse for trying to starve Anglo-American occupation forces out of Berlin.

It goes without saying that we shall find it possible to overcome these technical difficulties about the same time Stalin solves those that have cut our lines through the corridor to Berlin.

AGAINST WAR

This is a good time to assure Messrs. Stalin, Molotov, Vishinsky and their pals that the west is just as firmly against war as it always has been.

The Soviet's attitude left us with three alternatives. One, to quit Berlin, is inconceivable; the future of civilization depends on our demonstrating that no nation has to grovel to Russia because we can't even protect our own rights. The second, to move goods and personnel to Berlin by ground under armed guard, is morally and ethically justifiable, but might put spark to gunpowder.

We chose the third, to paraphrase the Golden Rule and start doing to the Russkis what the Russkis are doing to us.

They applied a blockade. Now we have applied a blockade. They said cynically they were compelled by technical difficulties. We use their own language. We knew what they meant. They know what we mean.

To make the point clearer, by coincidence the Berlin Germans kicked out the Red police chief and installed a Socialist. Naturally, Moscow does not recognize the new man's authority in the Soviet zone. But the Germans' action serves as warning to Stalin that Germans in the other zones have confidence in Anglo-American intention and ability to stick. Otherwise they would not have dared challenge the Russians on this point.

CLEARLY DRAWN

The issue is clearly drawn. Moscow has been told, by actions, that the policy of General Clay is the policy of the United States. The next move is up to them.

Every member of the democracies hopes sincerely that the next step will be down the road that leads to discussion, conciliation, understanding, world peace. We believe most Russians would like that. Will the Kremlin concur?

In Solemn Enjoyment

From the BBC London Letter

THE grey mellowed stone of London is the ideal setting for its traditional pageantry, the perennials such as the Royal Drive to the opening of parliament, the trooping of the color and the Lord Mayor's show, or the special occasions such as the victory parade, the royal wedding and the silver jubilee of the King and Queen.

GOOD HUMORED

The crowds that pour into the streets at these times are extraordinarily good-humored, and as MacDonald Hastings pointed out in a BBC North American program, they have now become an expert audience in appreciation and taking their own share in state occasions.

"Everybody — from the King and Queen to the humblest Londoner in the crowd—knows precisely how it should be done. The London police indicate where people can go with nothing more than a wave of a white gloved hand. The children are brought to the front of the crowd so that they can see better; often enough the children watch the show from a policeman's shoulder; and the royal family make absolutely certain that the passage of the procession moves on timetable to the minute.

MAKES NEWS

Indeed, if anything happens to disturb the timetable by as much as minutes, it's sufficiently surprising to make news. At the silver jubilee celebrations one of the state drives actually over-ran schedule by three minutes. And it was so unusual that the London papers featured the fact in next day's headlines."

Hastings thought that anyone with southern European blood in their veins might feel that the British took their state celebrations very sadly. "If it's impossible to imagine in any other country a ceremony more dramatic and moving than a royal procession in London and a national thanksgiving in St. Paul's Cathedral, it's impossible, too, to imagine in Britain the sort of carnival with which similar occasion would be celebrated on the continent," he said.

NO FIESTAS

"As a nation we're no good at fiestas. The nearest we can get to them is to put on a funny hat and buy a balloon. And I assure you that there are few things more ridiculous than a lot of solemn-faced English people wearing funny hats.

Changing The Record

From the Printed Word

WHATEVER other accomplishments our members of parliament may have, most of them show from time to time a certain amount of talent as editors. Their editing is done on the rush proofs of Hansard and other parliamentary reports, on quotations from their own remarks. In the hard light of the next morning those glowing words of yesterday's debate sometimes look a little less statesmanlike and sometimes a bit weak on grammar.

While some polishing up of syntax may be tolerated in the interests of parliamentary prestige, it is doubtful whether the deletion of whole remarks is justified especially when those remarks indicate for posterity something of the character and temper of both the individual and the times.

A recent case indicates another injustice arising from the practice. During one of the closing sessions of the Special Committee of the House which inquired into rising prices (and found that they had) tempers also rose a few points.

Obviously annoyed at a C.C.F. member's threat to delay prorogation, vice-chairman Ralph Maybank told him, among other things, he could "go fly a kite." The exchange of remarks appeared in the printed reports minus this slightly unparliamentary suggestion, thanks to a blue pencil wielded in later, calmer reflection. The injustice was that careful, conscientious newspaper correspondents whose detailed accounts included "go fly a kite," were automatically branded inaccurate by the official printed report of proceedings.

Troop Song

Ottawa Citizen

The contest sponsored by the United States Army for a song "worthy of becoming an over all army song, of military character and which can easily be used for marching and singing" is of dubious value. Such a song will probably go the way of most martial airs. It will be popular with civilians, but ignored by the troops.

Global Survey

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

MOSCOW radio yesterday laid aside its customary attacks on the democracies and for a change urged closer collaboration between Russia and the United States to assure lasting peace.

The Commentator declared that "just as it was collaboration of the great powers that made possible complete victory over the forces of fascism and militarism, so collaboration can assure a lasting peace at the present time." Since all broadcasts in Russia are government-controlled, we can be sure that this extraordinary statement had official approval.

Such a striking about-face from the usual caustic criticism of the democracies makes us pause to inquire "why"? are the Russians talking "for the record," are they on a fishing expedition, or do they really mean business?

ONLY ONE WAY

There is just one way, as I see it, in which full collaboration can be secured with the United States. That is for Moscow to abandon its project of world revolution for the establishment of Communist governments by force.

The United States never has challenged Russia on what the latter was doing within Soviet borders. However, the United States has made it quite clear that she will not stand idly by while communism is thrust upon small countries which lack the strength to defend themselves against Moscow-directed aggression.

Mind you, we are not dealing with a normal ideological crusade. One of the cardinal tenets of communism is the necessity of using strong-arm methods not only in the establishment of Red governments but in "persuading" unwilling people to subscribe to the ism. In this manner little countries like Czechoslovakia are taken over by Moscow.

The United States will not collaborate with a government which pursues any such scheme of operations. She will not collaborate with an ideology which says that the world isn't big enough to hold both "capitalism" and communism, and that "capitalistic" countries must be destroyed. She will not tolerate subversive activities by Communists within her own borders.

ABANDON REVOLUTION

Therefore the only way in which Moscow can secure real collaboration is to abandon world revolution. That would mean calling off all phases of the "cold war," including propaganda and the underground activities of Red agents.

The time has arrived for bolshevism to purge itself of its broken promises and other sins if it wants collaboration with the United States. It is conceivable that collaboration of some sort might be worked out on that basis.

NO REPEATS

Windsor Star

The depression which occurred in 1930 under a Republican regime was a blow to the Republicans from which they were slow to recover. Another such could be the ruination of them—particularly in view of their current opposition to Mr. Truman's program.

FALSE 'EQUALITY'

London (Ont.) Free Press

It is apparent to all the world now—even to Moscow—that man will not work efficiently on an "equality" basis. He must have incentive and there must be different degrees of reward for effort. A government is wise to remove the gross inequalities of classes within the nation, but if it reduces all to the same level of work and rewards it will stifle enterprise and initiative, and in time hand over capacity and power to more enterprising nations.

BEHIND THE TIMES

Edmonton Journal

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police have come a long way from the days when they normally "got their man" on horseback. Dog-sleds, automobiles, motorboats, schooners and conventional airplanes have one by one been pressed into service to carry on the force's manifold activities. Now the suggestion is made that helicopters may be next on the list.

It goes without saying, of course, that these developments will make no impression whatever in Hollywood. The movie stereotype of the force was formed long ago, and does not change. Even when the real-life Mountie is traveling in an atomic rocket, his screen counterpart will still be charging the Indians on horseback and in full dress uniform.

Plan New Phase Of Social Work In Esquimalt

Prelminary step in an experiment in voluntary social work will be taken in Esquimalt Thursday evening and may eventually spread to the whole of Greater Victoria.

A campaign to interest Esquimalt residents in the work has already been started by Mrs. Edith Brindley, director of the Esquimalt Community Centre, who has invited a number of persons to attend the organizational meeting at 1123 Colville Road at 8 on Thursday evening.

The organization is to be known as the Voluntary Social Workers' Club, and Mrs. Brindley lists the organization's objectives as:

1. To foster organized sports and games and so teach fair play, team work and general co-operation.

2. To organize handicraft classes and interest and hobby groups which will usefully and constructively occupy the leisure hours.

3. To provide recreational activities, particularly for those who cannot afford expensive recreation.

Generally, says Mrs. Brindley, the endeavor is to discover any social needs or problems which exist in the community, and to eliminate them whether they concern infants, young children, 'teen-agers or adults, regardless of race, religion or nationality.

It is proposed to give members of the new organization whatever instruction and training will be necessary for them to carry out out their work satisfactorily.

Albert Sullivan, formerly of the Department of Education, will speak on "From Coast to Coast," at tomorrow night's meeting of Oak Bay Kiwanis Club.

Canada On Thursday To Complete Loan From U.S. Companies

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's sale of $150,000,000 worth of 15-year, 3 per cent bonds to three United States life insurance companies will be concluded Thursday.

As announced here July 13 by Finance Minister Abbott, the money raised through the bonds issue will be used to repay $140,000,000 which Canada has drawn on the $300,000,000 credit she obtained last fall from the U.S. Export-Import Bank.

"The remainder will serve to increase Canada's exchange reserves," Mr. Abbott's announcement said.

In New York the Herald Tribune said today in its Wall Street comment that the loan to be made to Canada by three United States insurance companies "caused intense interest in Wall Street."

The paper said "insiders" understood the contributions to the $150,000,000 loan were to be as follows: Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, $25,000,000; Equitable Life Assurance Society, $50,000,000; Prudential Life Insurance Company, $75,000,000.

"Canadian representatives insisted that the insurance companies approach the Ottawa government, not viceversa," the Herald Tribune said.

The Herald Tribune said the 3 per cent interest rate could not be duplicated in Canada itself.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles 'Teen-age Club will hold its special mid-summer dance at the Eagles Home Thursday next at 7.30. E. C. ADMISSION RESTRICTED TO MEMBERS IN GOOD STANDING ON PRESENTATION OF MEMBERSHIP CARD

Policy, Not Leader, Chief C.C.F. Convention Feature

WINNIPEG (CP)—The emphasis will be on policy rather than leadership at the 10th national C.C.F. convention opening here Aug. 19 and party members are not unhappy about this.

They contend that at the recent National Liberal Convention the question of who would succeed Prime Minister King overshadowed study of the party platform. The same, they say, will be true at the national Progressive Conservative convention in Ottawa next month, with election of a successor to John Bracken attracting more attention than policy matters.

The C.C.F. convention, on the other hand, is expected to re-elect its national leader, M. J. Coldwell, as a matter of course, devoting all of its three-day session, barring the few minutes this vote of confidence will take, to policy.

This policy is not expected to offer any drastic departures from already-expressed C.C.F. views, but rather to reiterate the party's stand on socialization, with recommendations for public ownership of key industries including banks and railways among major resolutions to be presented.

The agenda will include a minimum of 105 resolutions, covering provincial and municipal fields as well as federal.

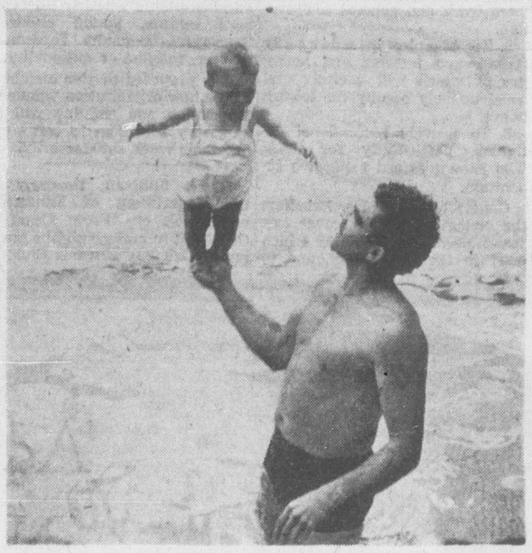
Concerning housing the convention is expected to pass on a recommendation urging federal responsibility for financing a low-rental and low-cost housing program and for assisting housing co-operatives.

MARKETING METHODS

Marketing methods for farm produce and minerals are likely to occasion sharp debate, with resolutions urging establishment of import and export boards responsible to the government and parliament in certain basic fields, including grains and livestock, minerals such as nickel, copper and aluminum, and coal.

The convention also will be asked to take a stand in favor of transferring from what a resolution terms "monopoly control" industries considered vital to agriculture, including the manufacture and distribution of fertilizer and farm implements.

Other resolutions will cover a national health policy, assistance to co-operatives, development of natural resources, a national fuel policy, control of investment, a social security program and labor problems.



Laughing Baby Bruce Creer, five-and-one-half-month-old son of physical-ed teacher Brian Creer and Mrs. Creer of 4098 West 17th Avenue, Vancouver, is a young man after a record—although he may not know it. Young Bruce came to Victoria's Crystal Garden to exploit the talents he showed in the bath. A sturdy little fellow, he stands upright on his father's hand.

Floating on his back, Bruce looks at the rafters, his feet in his father's hands. His display ends five weeks' acclimatization to the Victoria pool's water. "At first," says father Brian, "he pulled faces when we put him in the water, looked as if he would cry. When will he actually swim? We don't know. But Life Magazine did a feature on an eight-and-one-half-month-old baby that could. We wouldn't mind if we could beat that record." Mr. Creer, who recently completed a course at Victoria's Summer School, was an instructor for fellow students in life-saving. Baby Bruce's introduction to the Crystal Garden marked his baptism in a large pool.

Canada May Provide House For Premier

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa sources say Parliament may be asked to provide a home for Canadian Prime Ministers and that Louis Stephen St. Laurent, next on the list, will be the first man to move in.

The house most singled out is the old Edward's residence over looking the Ottawa River. Now occupied by the Australian High Commissioner, it is near Rideau Hall, residence of the Governor-General.

The conjecture arises from the fact that Prime Minister King intends to remain in Laurier House when he hands over his office to Mr. St. Laurent. Laurier House, home of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was willed to Mr. King by Lady Laurier.

2 From B.C. Named Among 12 Possible Tory Leaders

OTTAWA (CP)—As many as a dozen men may be candidates for the Progressive Conservative Party leadership at the national convention here opening Sept. 30.

A party source said Tuesday he did not think the fight would narrow down to a battle between Premier Drew of Ontario and John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan.

Besides Mr. Diefenbaker, probably seven other members of the Commons will be nominated. Mr. Drew is expected to be one of four party members outside the House to be nominated.

Nominees from the Commons are expected to be Howard Green, Vancouver South; E. D. Fulton, Kamloops; A. L. Smith, Calgary West; Gordon Graydon, Peel, Ont.; Donald Fleming, Toronto-Eglinton; J. M. Macdonnell, Muskoka-Ontario, and John T. Hackett, Stanstead, Que.

Murdoch Macpherson, prominent Saskatchewan lawyer and a candidate at the 1942 Winnipeg convention which chose John Bracken as leader, may once again be a candidate. Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto and a man who would have contested the 1942 convention if Mr. Bracken had not chosen to run, may also allow his name to go before the convention.

Ivan Sabourin, party leader in Quebec, is another prospective nominee.

A 193-man resolutions committee will meet two days prior to the convention to prepare new planks for the party platform. They are due to report to the convention on the second day of the convention.

Nominations for leadership will be accepted Oct. 1, when those nominated and planning to run will be given a chance to speak to the delegates. The voting for leadership will take place Oct. 2 just before the conclusion of the convention.

Princess Margaret To Represent King

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret, emerging fully into public life, will represent the Royal Family at Princess Juliana's investiture Sept. 6, Buckingham Palace authorities said Tuesday.

Margaret's special mission will mark her achievement of full stature among world royalty. She will be 18 Aug. 21. Her trip to the Netherlands will be her first outside the British Empire and the first time she officially has represented her father, the King.

Thousands Of Bulbs Leave Saanich

Archie Bain, secretary-manager of the Saanich Bulb Growers' Association, dumps a sack full of daffodil bulbs into a crate while Walter Belobaba tends the scales.

Benefits of year-long toils of Saanich bulb-growers now are being reaped.

The first shipment of daffodil and tulip bulbs this year by members of the Saanich Bulb-growers' Association left the city for eastern Canada today.

Value of the bulbs in the shipment is approximately $2,000. The association growers sent their crops in a carload completed by an independent grower, Howroyd Bulb Farm Ltd.

Archie Bain, secretary-manager of the association, and a staff of workers have been preparing the bulbs for shipment for several weeks. Shipping headquarters is the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall.

The association bulbs—King Alfred daffodils and William Copeland and William Pitt tulips—are going to the Dale Estate Ltd., at Brampton, Ont., operators of one of the largest greenhouse businesses on the continent.

The bulbs will be planted there to produce early flowers for the eastern Canada market next spring. The Saanich bulbs are said to be earlier producing than varieties from Holland.

The bulbs are shipped in wooden crates and cardboard cartons, holed so air can circulate among the precious seeds. Before being packed they must be sorted and counted.

This year's Saanich crop is reported to be one of the best.

Report Discusses Cases Of Cruelty In Family Circle

LONDON (CP) — More than 100,000 children, many the victims of "gross neglect or cruelty," came under the notice of Britain's National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children last year.

Reasons why parents so often behave abominably to their children are discussed in the report of a society inspector dealing with a single London borough covering a period of one year.

Of 188 cases, involving the welfare of 407 children and 283 offenders—men and women—105 were of neglect, 34 of ill-treatment, one of assault, two of moral danger. Forty-six other cases investigated by the society did not call for action.

The majority of the fathers deal with by the society, says the report, "are ordinary men reacting to abnormal social and economic conditions."

Typical examples:

A man who had served four years in the army, won the Military Medal and earned an honorable discharge, returned home to find his wife had had a fourth child—not his own. Towards his own three children he remained kind and affectionate, but the new baby "offended in every way" and was punished with savage blows whenever it cried.

HATED FOURTH CHILD

"It is said that we hate those whom we have wronged," the inspector said, "and this man undoubtedly hated the fourth child."

An ex-R.A.F. man, returning to his wife and four children, had to adapt himself to a two-room house with no privacy. At first he struggled with the situation by hanging up blankets to divide the family bedroom into cubicles.

As weeks went by and no better accommodation could be found, he saw his wife losing heart. She became slatternly and short-tempered. Dirt and the noise of quarreling children made conditions worse. One day tried beyond his patience, he struck his wife and beat up the children.

"Thousands of cases like this are handled by the society," the inspector wrote. "The trouble invariably is bad housing. Decently housed, these families are quickly relieved of the strains and stresses that jeopardize their finer feelings, and normal family life is restored.

"Women who let their homes go to pieces are often helped by the knowledge that their problems and difficulties are of interest to people outside the family circle. A little sympathy, a little firmness, a little sound advice are often all that is needed.

"To help is our first objective, to prosecute is our last resource."

Vows Exchanged, Newlyweds Smile

Two members of well-known families exchanged nuptial vows last Saturday when Daphne Evangeline Laird and William Graeme Scott were united in marriage in Ryerson United Church, Vancouver. Rev. E. D. Braden, D.D., assisted by Col. G. O. Fallis, D.D., officiated at the three o'clock rites.

The principals are graduates of University of British Columbia. The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Laird, Vancouver, and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Martin is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. The groom, only son of Mrs. Scott, Vancouver, formerly of Victoria and the late W. M. Scott, is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick of Victoria. He is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and also served overseas with R.C.N.V.R.

For the attractive afternoon wedding the bride was gowned in frosted floral patterned white organdie. Her four attendants were in Elizabethan mode flower-sprigged dimity frocks and carried flower filled picture hats.

In crinoline mode, the bouffant skirt of the bridal gown swept slightly en train. The long-sleeved bodice featured a portrait neckline and the bridal veil of tulle illusion misted from a seed pearl coronet. American Beatuy roses, stephanotis and gardenias were in the cascade bouquet carried by the bride. She wore a pearl necklace and her "something old" was her maternal grandmother's engagement ring.

Maroon, the predominant floral coloring in the frock of honor maid, Miss Ruth Wallace, was repeated in the sash encircling the waist of her bouffant skirt. A melange of summer flowers cascaded from her picture hat in the same rich shade, which she carried by maroon streamers. In her hair, she wore a floral wreath.

The same motif in blue was carried out in the ensembles and flowers of the groom's sisters, Misses Patricia and Beverley Scott, in their roles of bridesmaid and junior attendant.

Little Margaret Ann Jones, three-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. Jones, was her cousin's flower girl. She wore a pink flowered dimity frock and carried a colonial nosegay.

Lester Patrick escorted his sister, Mrs. Scott.

Douglas McCauley, Victoria, was best man. Ushers were Jack Gardiner, Arthur Elworthy, Roderick McGraw and Douglas Laird, a brother of the bride.

Dr. Braden gave the toast to the bride at a reception in Hotel Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott are motoring south on their honeymoon, and will return to Vancouver to make their home.

The bride's going-away costume was a cherry red suit, with cloud grey accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

In Hot Weather—Vegetables

August vegetables make a succulent main platter.

For the main dinner course on a hot day, plan an August vegeable platter, fortified with a little bacon, bread crumbs and cheese.

August Vegetable Platter

One medium-sized cauliflower, 1 pound green beans, 4 bacon slices, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vinegar. ½ cup onion slices, 3 medium-sized tomatoes, 2 teaspoons bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon onion salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup grated old English-type cheese.

Cook head of cauliflower in salted water until almost done. Cut ends from green beans and cook beans in salted water until tender; drain. Cook bacon until crisp. Drain and break into small pieces. Toss together lightly green beans, ½ teaspoon salt, two tablespoons bacon fat, one teaspoon vinegar and onion slices. Peel tomatoes and cut in half crosswise. Mix together bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon salt, onion salt, pepper and two tablespoons bacon fat.

Spread on cut surface of each tomato half. Place cauliflower head in centre of heat-resistant glass platter. Sprinkle cauliflower with grated cheese. Arrange green beans and tomatoes alternately on platter around cauliflower. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes.

Makes three large or six small servings.

The peach season is now wide open. Here are a few peach-buying hints from the market experts:

It is not the blush or the lack of blush or the hardness that tells the tale. It is the background color. If that color is an uncompromising green, you'd better not buy the peach for the chances are it will shrivel instead of ripen. But if the green color has begun to break—that is if the white or yellow coloration, according to the variety, has begun to show through the green, the peach will ripen nicely and you will get your money's worth even it is as yet too green to eat.

Select peaches of fresh appearance and practically free of blemishes. Of course, there is bound to be some pressure in peaches packed for shipment. But underneath bruised spots of any extent you are sure to find discolored areas which may likely mean a good deal of waste. So avoid peaches in this condition as much as possible, especially those with large bruises.

Chipped Beef, Olive Casserole

This economical and tasty "Olive and Chipped Beef Casserole" will feed four hungry people. Make it with noodles, ripe olives and cheese, and top it with crumbs before popping into the oven for the final bit of baking.

Olive and Chipped Beef Casserole — Half cup ripe olives, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour, 1½ cups milk, ½ cup grated cheese, 2 ounces (½ cup) sliced dried beef, 4 ounces noodles, ¼ cup dry bread crumbs.

Cut olives from pits into large pieces. Melt butter and blend in flour. Add milk and cook and stir until thickened. Remove from heat, blend in cheese, olives and shredded dried beef. Cook noodles until tender in boiling salted water and drain thoroughly. Pour sauce over noodles. Turn into oiled 1½-quart casserole, top with crumbs and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Serves four.

Fresh Green Leaf Under Cap Saves Hair From Sun

A famed sportswoman says she keeps her hair from baking dry on the tennis courts by putting a fresh cabbage or lettuce leaf under her cap.

Try this trick, if you pursue a sport under the hot sun, and want to keep moisture in your hair.

Don't think that you can wander around for hours bareheaded in the sun and escape the penalty of over-exposure. A little sunlight is tonic for your hair. Too much will drain color and spirit off the oils that keep hair lively and glossy.

To be on the safe side, limit the sun-bath that you give your hair to 10 or 15 minutes a day. Stuff a bandana or scarf in your beach bag to use as a shield after your head has had its brief sunning.

If hair already shows signs of over-exposure—discoloration and straw-like ends—try using an oil spray on it when you dress it. And brush oftener, using many more strokes.

Orange Nectar Pie

One and one-half cups apricot whole fruit nectar, ½ cup granulated sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 cups orange sections, 1 baked 8-inch pastry shell.

Heat nectar. Add sugar blended with cornstarch and salt, and cook and stir over low heat until clear and thickened. Beat egg lightly. Stir slowly into cooked mixture, and continue cooking 5 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and blend in lemon juice; cool slightly. Pour over orange sections arranged in baked pastry shell. Cool thoroughly before cutting. Serves five to six.

Macaroni Special

Two and ½ cups cut macaroni (8 oz.), 1½ cups left-over meat, chopped, 2 cups gravy, 1 teaspoon spicy meat sauce, 1 medium onion chopped, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup breadcrumbs, 1 tablespoon fat.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain well. Mix together the chopped meat, gravy, spicy meat sauce, onion, salt and pepper. Combine well with the macaroni and place in a well-greased baking dish. Cover with the crumbs, dot with fat and bake in a moderately slow over, 325 deg. F., for 20 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Refresh summer afternoon callers with tall glasses of frosty apricot whole fruit nectar. Crush a few mint leaves in the bottom of each glass and fill two-thirds full with chilled apricot whole fruit nectar. Fill with ginger ale and a small scoop of cracked ice.

Ideas for supper these days centre around meals that can be served easily in the backyard. Spaghetti is excellent. Team this up with a big bowl of shiny ripe olives and such things as carrot sticks, green onions and radishes that are all finger foods.

Let's Eat!

Extra Special!—Here is a menu suitable for that extra special dinner: beef heart patties, home fried potatoes, green beans, chef's salad, nutted gingerbread, served with flavorful coffee.

Meat Aspic — Soak one tablespoon gelatine in one-quarter cup of cold water for five minutes, add to one and one-half cups hot meat stock. Then add one tablespoon vinegar, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon finely-chopped onion, two tablespoons chopped pimiento and one-quarter cup chopped sweet pickle. Slice one hard-cooked egg, and arrange in bottom wet or greased mould, pour in one-quarter cup of jelly mixture. Let stand until set. Then add two cups chopped, cooked lean meat (beef, veal or pork) to remaining jelly mixture, pour over eggs and set aside until firm. Turn out to serve six.

Chopping Parsley — Use a heavy knife, pile parsley on chopping board. Move knife up and down in quick chopping action. The trick is to keep the point of the knife on the board and weight on heavy part of knife.

Skinning Tongue — First slit skin on underside of tongue from base to tip. Then turn tongue over with tip end toward you, and carefully slip skin off like a glove.

Consomme—Chill two cans of consomme in a bowl in the refrigerator. When half jellied, fold in ¼ cup sour cream and one tablespoon chopped chives. Chill thoroughly. Serves four.

Chilled Soup — Add one can cold water to one can spinach soup. Stir in ½ teaspoon minced chives and dash nutmeg. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; season. Chill till icy cold. Sprinkle sieved yolk of hard-cooked egg atop soup after pouring into cups. Serves four.

Vichyssoise — Slice two leeks and one onion very thin; brown lightly in two tablespoons butter. Add three sliced potatoes, one pint water, ½ teaspoon salt; boil 35 minutes. Mash through fine sieve. Add one cup milk and one cup cream; season. Bring to boil; strain; cool. Scald ½ cup cream; cool; add, then chill. Garnish with finely-chopped chives. Serves four.

Tomato Salad — Two cups tomato juice, two tablespoons tomato catsup, one tablespoon gelatin, one cup cottage cheese, one cup chopped celery. Dissolve gelatin in ¼ cup cold tomato juice. Heat remaining tomato juice with catsup and pour over gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Allow to cool and partially set, then add celery and cheese. Pour into a lightly greased mold. Then chill and unmold to serve.

Golden Apricots — Apricots should be kept in a cool place. Keep fully ripened fruit in the refrigerator and use while they are at the peak of their flavor. Unripe apricots can be ripened quickly by leaving them at ordinary room temperature.

Plum Conserve — Two quarts plums, five and one-half cups sugar, one lemon. Wash and pit plums then add a small amount of water and cook in a covered kettle until skins are soft. Add sugar, grated rind and juice of lemon. Then cook until mixture is thick and clear. Pack into hot, clean glasses and seal.

Potato Salad—To serve eight use four cups diced cooked potatoes, one and one-half cups diced celery, one cup sliced olives, three hard-cooked eggs, diced, one-third cup chopped onion, one teaspoon salt, two-thirds cup mayonnaise, eight lettuce leaves. Toss together in a bowl, potatoes, celery, olives, eggs, onion and salt. Add mayonnaise and lightly mix. Place a lettuce leaf in each of eight glass deep pie dishes. Fill each lettuce leaf with potato salad.

Ham Excellent Hot Weather Meat

Ham is a good hot weather meat for town home or country camp. It keeps longer, without refrigeration, than fresh meats. Ham sandwiches or cold sliced ham are almost standard fare for picnics. A whole ham is a good buy for the larger family but may be a luxury for a smaller group.

The family of two or three may buy a slice from the large end, or perhaps a two or three-pound butt end. A cottage roll or a picnic ham is a good choice for the small family. These are hams by courtesy, as they are cured shoulder pieces. However the cure is the same as for ham, so when cooked, the difference is slight.

Boiled ham or shoulder is a good standby, served hot or cold. When the piece is eaten down to the end and will not slice nicely, there are many ways in which those last delicious morsels may be used to advantage.

Ham Souffle—2 tablespoons fat, 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 2 cups milk, ½ cup bread crumbs, 2 cups cooked ham, chopped, 1 egg yolk, beaten; 1 egg white, stiffly beaten.

Melt fat, add onion and cook slowly 2 minutes. Blend in flour and paprika and continue cooking 2 minues. Stir in milk and bring to boil. Pour over bread crumbs. Add ham and beaten egg yolk. Cool slightly. Fold in beaten egg whites, pour in a greased baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water oven-poach in a slow oven 300 degrees F., for 1 hour. Yield: six servings.

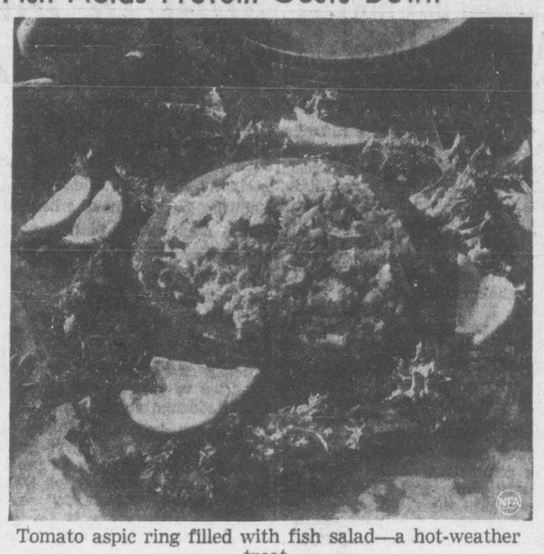
Fish Holds Protein Costs Down



Tomato aspic ring filled with fish salad—a hot-weather treat.

One Hot Food For Every Meal

When the sizzling days of summer descend upon us, the temptation is to concentrate on cold foods and iced drinks, overindulge in frozen desserts.

In actual fact, however, we keep cooler if we wisely include a little hot food with every meal. Hot food aids digestion, and also heightens enjoyment of the cold foods in the same meal. The hot dish need not be an elaborate one. After all none of us wants to spend hours over the range on a torrid day.

Select something easy, such as a light hot soup. Soup is easily digested, comes early in the meal, and is simple to prepare. This one is delicious:

Cream of Asparagus and Chicken Soup—One 10-oz. tin condensed asparagus soup, 1 10-oz. tin condensed chicken soup with rice, 1 tin fresh milk (using soup tin as a measure), 1 tin water.

Stir chicken soup with rice into asparagus soup. Then add one tin of milk an done tin of water (using the soup tin for measure) and heat, but do not boil. Serves five to seven.

Nice with this is cold sliced baked ham, mixed raw vegetable salad, crusty rolls, fruit shortcake, iced coffee.

Even Nylons Run When Mistreated

As lasting as nylon stockings are, you can shorten their life span by such murderous treatmen as yanking 'em on, handling with rough fingernails, or gartering outside of the reinforced welt.

The way to put on your glamorous sheers, in case you've forgotten, is to fold down to the toe and ease a foot cautiously past the instep. This method works in reverse to slip off a stocking without casualties.

If nails haven't been filed smooth, before you ease your stockings on or off, or finger them through the wash, slip on gloves for safe handling.

As for the warning not to hitch garter clasps outside of the stocking welt—or in the opening of the welt at the back of your sock—you shouldn't need to be admonished about that. One experience in seeing a ladder spring from a garter caught in the stocking proper will teach a woman a lesson that should last for a lifetime.

Fruity turnovers pack and carry well to picnics where they are so much fun to eat out of hand. Make the filling for them with sweetened cooked dried apricots and crushed pineapple. Be sure there are seconds for all.

A picnic salad should be quick to make, simple to pack and most important of all, should still have keen bright flavor when eaten some hours later.

Hudson Bay Rlwy. Again Put Under Control Of C.N.R.

OTTAWA (CP)—The 510-mile Hudson Bay Railway, now almost completed, has been "re-entrusted" to the Canadian National Railways and placed under jurisdiction of the Board of Transport Commissioners, it was announced Tuesday.

The transport department said the chahges are effective as of Aug. 1. The move puts the H.B.R. under provisions of the Railway Act instead of the Government Railways Act.

Between 1923 and 1926, the H.B.R., which runs between The Pas, Man., and Churchill, Man., was entrusted to the C.N.R. that arrangement was canceled "pending completion of the works of construction and betterment." Since 1926 the C.N.R. has acted only as agent for the transport department on matters of H.B.R. management and operation.

Euler Says Canada Can Make Margarine

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Senator W. D. Euler said Tuesday that oleomargarine could be made from ingredients grown on Canadian farms and that the banned butter substitute could be sold at a retail price of 40 cents a pound or less.

The Senator, long a fighter for lifting of the margarine ban, said in an interview that margarine could be made from the oils of soy bean, flower seed, rape seed and perhaps mustard seed.

Man In Iowa Ready and Willing To Take Over High Posts Here

If King George, Viscount Alexander or Charles A. Banks ever want to quit their present positions, the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau knows where to find a man willing to take over where they leave off, although it won't guarantee he will be at all satisfactory.

The man in question lives in Perry, Iowa, and has written the bureau here informing its officials he considers himself qualified to fill any of the positions indicated above.

Mind you, he hasn't set any of these jobs as his highest goal. What he'd rather do is be president of the University of B.C., or principal of Victoria College.

But wait, the story is going ahead of itself. Let's start from the beginning.

The bureau first heard of the man in Iowa through the local office of the B.C. Land & Investment Agency Ltd. He had evidently seen the name of this firm somewhere, and had decided to write to its office here to get some information about the province.

The investment firm, not wanting to disregard what appeared to be an earnest inquiry from a would-be immigrant, turned his letter over to George I. Warren, commissioner of city publicity.

In no time at all, Mr. Warren's staff had folders and pamphlets, telling of the advantages of living in Victoria, on their way to Iowa.

It wasn't long before a letter thanking them for their trouble and asking for further assistance was received.

QUALIFICATIONS

"I believe that my business education would qualify me to assume the Presidency of a College and any information you may give me in regard to receiving an appointment of this kind to the College in Victoria or Vancouver University in Vancouver will be considered confidentially," he confided.

"I have given a good deal of study to the Holy Scriptures and sermon preperation (the spelling is his, not ours) and public speaking and been active in Sunday School and church work. Have put in considerate time in the study of law and health subjects."

The bureau decided to put the fellow wise.

"We feel certain you have formed an erroneous impression of Canadian educational tandards, which are not exceeded anywhere in the world, except at Oxford and Cambridge Universities in England," the bureau wrote.

"In fact, very few universities in the United States are of sufficiently high standard to enjoy reciprocal credits with Canadian universities."

"From this, it is obvious that an applicant for a position in the instructional department of a Canadian College or University must possess extremely high qualifications, including reciprocal degrees from a university in the United States."

To leave no doubt about what was meant, the bureau staffers added:

"We do not like to discourage anyone, but we feel that your efforts to obtain such a position will be absolutely fruitless. We are sure that an interview with staff members at your nearest, larger size, university will corroborate this."

With the letter away in the mail, bureau officials sat back with a "well that will be the end of that" attitude. But no, the best was still to come.

The bureau's letter about high qualifications evidently rubbed our Iowa friend the wrong way. In his letter of reply he started:

"I am giving you some information which I think should prove helpful to you."

HUMBLE SLANT

The information, in following paragraphs, consisted of six biographical sketches of men, who, he said, had made themselves world famous after starting in a humble way.

No one at the bureau had ever heard of the men whose names were listed.

Returning to his own case, the writer declared. "I am a high school and Auction College graduate and completed a business manager's course at a business college and have studied banking and law and health."

Then the good part:

"My study should qualify me to fill the position of Lieutenant Governor of the Province of British Columbia, or Governor General of Canada or the ruler of an Empire."

Showing he was 'not letting himself be discouraged, he added:

"I believe that you should appreciate the fact that I have offered or applied for a position as a president of your universities . . . I think that British Columbia and Alberta should have a unified plan in their educational program.

He finished the letter with "I remain, your's respectfully."

C.I.O. Longshoremen Offered 5c Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—West coast shipowners offered C.I.O. longshoremen a 5-cent-an-hour wage increase Tuesday, but stood firm on their proposal to overhaul the hiring hall system.

The union has demanded a raise of 18 cents an hour. It says it will strike Sept. 2 if the hiring hall provisions are changed.

The new wage offer would bring longshore pay to $1.72 an hour straight time, and $2.58 an hour for overtime. The shipowners also offered better vacation benefits, to total $350,000 a year.

RIO THEATRE

Circus days may soon be over for "Poodles" Hanneford and his world-famous family troupe of bareback and trick riders, who have been top-flight performers in the sawdust ring for more than a quarter-century. Hanneford revealed this recently, pointing to the fact that increasing labor shortage problems in the circus circuit prompted him and his family to return to California for a possible career in the movies.

That the Hanneford family of riding experts has had no difficulty in this respect is attested by the fact that both "Poodles" and his pretty 19-year-old daughter Gracie are currently to be seen in Warner Bros.' technicolor production "San Antonio," at the Rio Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

In Hollywood you're psychoanalyzed in technicilor! Dressed in purple instead of grey, even you might be a Lana Turner! Color does it.

Take the word of Rouben Mamoulian for this. Veteran director of stage and screen, he's the man responsible for the Broadway hits, "Oklahoma," "Carousel" and "St. Louis Woman." He also directed the first technicolor film feature ,"Beck Sharp."

ATLAS THEATRE

Ronald Reagan, star of Warner Bros.' "The Voice of the Turtle," currently at the Atlas Theatre, is practically an authority on Iowa beauty. on Iowa beauty.

For the third time, the star judged an Iowa college beauty contest.

Reagan was asked to pick beauty queens at Morningside College, Sioux City, Ia.; Buena Vista College, Storm Lake, Ia., and Teachers' College, Dubuque.

DOMINION THEATRE

Popular William Lundigan, starring in Republic's new hit, "The Inside Story," now at the Dominion Theatre, literally talked his way into a screen career. A former radio announcer in his home town of Syracuse, N.Y., Bill was given a test by a studio executive purely on the strength of his fine voice. It was such a good test that Bill was given an important part in "Dodge City" for his movie debut and, with the exception of the war years spent in the Marine Corps, he has not been off the screen since.

Screen Revives Vaudeville Era

Gangsters, bootleggers and the Gay Nineties have all had their day on the screen, and now the movies are going all-out to recapture the color and nostalgia of the old vaudeville days.

Instead of tackling the backstage angle this time, which has already been well explored, Twentieth Century-Fox has picked a warm, touching story, "Mother Wore Tights," a biographical account of a pair of vaudeville hoofers that is being acclaimed as the screen's first true, intimate story of the people who made show business like no business on earth. The Technicolor film, based on Miriam Young's hilarious best-seller, stars Betty Grable with Dan Dailey, sensational new dancing "find," and opens today at the York Theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE

Bette Davis, Warner Bros.' star, has created more Broadway roles for the screen than any other member of her craft. Among them are her roles in "Dark Victory," "The Letter," "The Old Maid," "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Watch On the Rhine," "The Corn Is Green," "The Little Foxes" and "Deception." Miss Davis' latest role of Susan Grieve, however, is from the Ethel Vance novel, "Winter Meeting," now at the Royal Theatre.

This one is the story of a girl we knew—to save any argument we'll call her Lou. Now this Lou and us when we knew this Lou. Had a funny thing happen—it should happen to you. No matter whatever we happened to said or do. At the same time Lou did or said the same thing too. Now this wasn't pre—arranged—any practice we didn't do. It just happened and it wasn't all just bill and coo.

But if you are thinking of billing and cooing, the best place to furnish your nest is down here where EVERY month in the year is a bargain month.

Even such stuff as looking at the moon, as it hung above the bridge in any month but June (but June rhymes), when we said to Lou said we to she—"It's a beautiful moon"—She said it with me. When we mentioned one time that we liked to climb high, to sit on mountain peaks near the sky, especially if craggy and with a good view. Said Lou to we I'll meet you up there,—I'm the original mountain goat but don't bring a bear.

You can bear the cost of these trilites sold at an all-time low of 12.00 for the stand and parchment hand-painted shade. With silk shades just a little more.

So we started up a mountain with this simultaneous she—we drove the first part on account of me, cuz I figured out if we got near the top,—we'd go on foot then we wouldn't drop. Said Lou to we as we looked o'er the city,—now this is the place to compose a ditty — and as we were naturally thinking the same—we said of course and it'll sure be pretty, if we tell them how the lights look like firebugs at night—but they aren't unhappy like these ones that bite, so brushing off the same mosquito with her arm and mine we at the same time sat down with our hands entwine.

Twi'ne find your way down here to our Furniture Warehouse where because we all think the same about prices we can sell these gorgeous chesterfield suites for so much less so many times.

Now said Lou to we—to we said she—"Do you see the moon thru yon crooked tree?"—and just as she said it we'd seen o'er the sea, the moon man pale as he chuckled in glee—and pointing down said this quarter moon beam—"Hey—ye and she which act like a dream—and think the same things at the very same time—then write them out in corny verse and rhyme—shouldn't wait any longer trying to be two—there's a parson down below who for only his due—will fix whats been destined for years gone by—cuz ye two are one if I know my sky."

Honest—that's what he said—that's what the ma-OON said.

'Refugee' Amuses Kiwanians, Guests

A small young man, introduced as a refugee from Petrograd University in Europe, stepped up to the microphone at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday to tell of his experiences in learning the English language.

Two minutes later, the "refugee" who turned out to be Doug Haskins, clever Vancouver imitator, had club members and their wives in ti's of laughter as he demonstrated is "phonetic punctuation" method of clarifying his speech.

He showed his versatility as he followed up with a Lancashire-dialect recitation of "Little Albert's Visit to Vancouver."

Mr. Haskins was one of four speakers who gave short addresses as part of "Guest Day," where visitors take over as speakers, each giving a five-minute narration.

STAND TOGETHER

Ralph Franklin, assistant to the editor of the Berkeley Daily Gazette, spoke of the closeness of the United States and Canada, declaring, "our two nations will stand shoulder to shoulder in peace and war."

Greetings from the Saskatoon Kiwanis were given by Jack McDermid, past president. "Your hospitality here is fine," he said, but added, tongue in cheek, "but I'm not surprised, 75 per cent of the people I meet came from Saskatchewan."

Scientists Busy At Point Barrow

POINT BARROW, Alaska (AP)—Everything under the sun—which sets for only a few minutes each day—is being checked by some of the United States' top scientists at this top of the world village.

The experiments are being carried out at the two-story roundroof building that houses the Arctic Institute, sponsored by the Office of Naval Research.

But the research is not military.

For example: One scientist took a casual evening stroll across the marshy tundra and returned with six species of mushroom never before recorded in these latitudes.

Police Board Dates Union Pay Award Back To April 1

Board of city police commissioners meeting Tuesday afternoon unanimously authorized police union wage increases awarded last week by a B.C. Labor Relations Board arbitration board be retroactive to April 1 of this year.

The arbitration board ruled the wage boosts effective June 1, 1948, but also strongly recommended that the commission give favorable consideration to dating the awards back to January 1 of this year.

None of the three commission members would agree to going back that far and settled on April 1 as a compromise.

Board decided to postpone until its next meeting decision on what increases should be granted higher officers of the force not in the union, others in that category and the police woman and janitors.

Mayor Percy E. George started the ball rolling on the question of dating award earlier than ordered by the arbitrary tribunal.

He noted how the union had held off for many months before coming to the board for pay increases due to the ever-rising cost-of-living. This had been last October when consideration had been promised their application, Mayor George said.

"If we are going to play ball with the union we have got to date it back," he said.

PRAISE POLICE FORBEARANCE

The arbitration board statement read by William L. Ostler, commission secretary, read in part:

"During hearings, it became apparent the union had exercised a great deal of forbearance in not pressing for its claim to wage increases unduly, and particularly, that any definite appeal had been delayed until after the beginning of the year to accord with the city's financial year of 1948."

Commissioner James Neely was next to support Mayor George in back-dating the awards. Commissioner B. J. Gadsden finally fell in line and moved the motion for the April I retroactive date, seconded by Mr. Neely.

However, Mr. Gadsden was worried about the whole question putting an added burden on the taxpayers. He noted the city did not have any money and referred to such awards as "spending money we haven't got."

Mr. Gadsden wondered if the money would have to be obtained by borrowing. Mayor George thought that before the year was up the city would more than likely have to get an overdraft from the bank.

It was stressed that the question on the back-dating was a commission decision alone, not one to pass onto the city council to decide on.

Mayor George said that the inside staffs of the city were waiting to see the outcome of the police wage question before acting themselves. He said the council had decided the police award would be justifiable for the other departments.

In the new negotiations, Mayor George said there was no firm basis to work on due to the sliding scale of the police award: $20 for detectives, sergeants and first-class constables, $17.50 for second-class constables, $10 for third-class officers and $5 for probationers. A straight across-the-board award would have made things easier to figure for the other departments, he said.

SAYS AWARD UNFAIR

Mr. Neely considered the arbitration award unfair. He said that the whole police fight had been on the basis of the cost of living rise. The outcome was inconsistent with the intention.

"What the board had done was to re-valuate the services of policemen in all categories for money paid. The board was not called upon to go over the wage structure," Mr. Neely said.

He was supported by the mayor in thinking the award should have allowed for as much for the lower as the higher-paid policemen.

Get $500 Gift To Send Officer East To Traffic Course

With a $500 donation from an unidentified party to help the plan along, City police commission at its meeting Tuesday afternoon decided to ask the city council for $800 to send Sgt. Brooke Douglass to the five-month traffic course in Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., this fall.

Mayor Percy E. George, chairman, said the commission was sworn to secrecy on who the donor was.

Acting Chief of Police J. Blackstock reported that as a result of a visit of a representative of the course to Victoria to interview Sgt. Douglass July 1, the local traffic officer had been found eligible to attend the course and had been awarded a $200 scholarship to help defray expenses.

The acting chief said it had been figured out the entire cost, including transportation and room and board at the university, would not be less than $1,500.

With the donation and the scholarship this left $500 to be provided.

Sgt. Douglass is organizer of the present school traffic patrol system, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, in operation in this area and regarded as a great success.

Members of the commission will urge the council to take advantage of the opportunity to send a representative on the course, rated as one of the best and most exhaustive schools pertaining to traffic education in the world. It will be pointed out Vancouver and B.C. Police have already each sent a representative to the course.

Congratulate City Police Rope Team

A letter of congratulations to the city police tug-'o-war team for their victories in the Highland games July 31 at Macdonald Park, was ordered sent by the police commission Tuesday.

The city police took the measure of Vancouver police outpulling them twice in three pulls and then vanquished Sooke loggers two straight.

Lack of finances was reported to be the only hold-back in the way of the city team invading Seattle on August 14-15 to participate in the Caledonia Games there.

Acting chief of police J. Blackstock intimated to the commission he was considering plans to get a sports club organized within the department.

1948 Police Ball At Empress Nov. 5

Thirty-fifth annual ball presented by the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association will be held in the Empress Hotel on the night of November 5. Police commission Tuesday granted permission to put on the ball after a letter had been read from Sgt. Stanley Holmes, president, asking for the board's approval.

CONSTABLE PROMOTED

Constable Robert L. Massen, aged 25, 1415 Gladstone Avenue, was promoted to third-class constable by the city police commission at Tuesday meeting when he appeared before the board on completing his probation period. He was the last on the probationary list, for which a pay increase award made by the arbitration board recently amounted to $5. The constable spent seven years in the navy, was highly recommended by A/Chief J. Blackstock for the promotion.

Make Presentations To Lenny Kasparovitch

One of the most popular members of the Victoria Athletics ball club the past two seasons, pitcher Kasparovitch was honored last night by the club, Victoria firms and fans. Johnny Johnson, president of the Athletics, presents Lenny with a set of luggage on behalf of the ball club. Others, from left to right: Mrs. Kasparovitch, Eric Cox, club director, and Reg Patterson, club business manager.

Salem Squad Ruins Kasparovitch Night

Victoria baseball fans—3,800 of them—turned out last night to honor Athletics' pitcher Lenny Kasparovitch on the occasion of his special night and everything went off smoothly except that the pesky Salem Senators refused to play along. After belting Kasparovitch off the mound in the second inning they went on to wallop the A's 13 to 3 and tie up the series at one win apiece.

Kasparovitch, after his 15th win of the season just didn't have it. The chunky right-hander appeared to tighten up, was bothered by control trouble and on making his hasty departure with two away in the second inning had given up seven hits and three walks, good for five runs.

Bill Harmsen, who relieved him, fared little better as he was touched for four runs in four and one-third innings and Jimmy Propst who came in to work the seventh gave up another two runs, both on walks with the bases loaded. With his pitching staff soured Manager Ted Norbert allowed third sacker Babe Jensen to finish off the last two innings and he was charged with the final two runs, one a home run by Dick Sinovic.

SALTZMAN HOT

Athletics looked at some good pitching by lanky right hander Hal Saltzman. Showing good speed and fast breaking curve he was never in serious trouble after being given the early lead. Saltzman was nicked for 12 hits but held the A's to single runs in the fifth, sixth and ninth. He struck out six and walked a pair.

Catcher Bill Burgher of the visitors continued his sensational hitting streak against the Athletics. In his last eight appearances at the plate the Victoria club has been unable to get him out. His record includes three home runs, three singles and a pair of walks. He has driven in six runs. He picked up four for four last night.

Victoria's Archie Wilson helped his batting average with three for five including a double.

Pre-game presentation to Kasparovitch saw the popular hurler receive a number of gifts from Victoria firms along with a beautiful set of luggage from the club. His teammates presented Lenny with a pen and pencil set. Mrs. Kasparovitch was also introduced to the fans and presented with a bouquet of flowers and corsage. Johnny Johnson, president of the Athletics, made the presentations, and paid tribute to Kasparovitch for his pitching success with the club the last two seasons.

Little Lefty Joe Sullivan stretched the Bremerton lead to 6½ games last night by cooling off Spokane Indians 8 to 0 with a three-hit pitching job as Tacoma bowed 9 to 7 to Wenatchee. Yakima toppled Vancouver 8 to 6 in the other clash.

Vancouver had two three-run innings but couldn't overcome cellar-dwelling Yakima's one big spurt—a seven-run spree on eight hits.

Athletics Become Associated With Victoria United Soccer

A new deal was declared for soccer in Victoria with the announcement today by Charlie Faulkner, secretary-treasurer of the Victoria United Coast League Club, that Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co. Ltd. would be associated with the footballers in their activities next season. Operators of the Athletics professional ball team in the Western International League the local organization will throw its support behind the footballers.

"The new set-up will provide this city with a soccer organization comparable to those operating in Vancouver," Faulkner said. "It is something I have been striving for the past two seasons and I want to say at this time the arrangement is no one-year proposition. Victoria United will now be in a position to compete with the powerful mainland elevens in the matter of securing top notch players, something we have not been able to do in the past and it has proven a terrific handicap."

Faulkner stated that the Victoria United club will retain its identity but that one of the directors of the Athletics would be placed on the directorate of the football team in order to provide them with a voice at meetings and keep in close touch on the club operations.

OPERATE ON OWN

The United, it will be remembered, is now completely divorced from the Victoria and District Football League and will operate in the Coast League entirely on its own. In previous seasons the United received financial backing from the city league.

Coast League has hopes of expanding this season to a six-club circuit with the addition of teams from New Westminster and Nanaimo. These clubs have until Aug. 27, the date of the next Coast League meeting, to provide proof they are in a position to field elevens capable of holding their own in the circuit. The Nanaimo club is operating under an entirely new set-up headed by Nat Bevis. If necessary, Nanaimo will be assisted by the league in setting up its club, Faulkner said.

No definite plans have been made regarding the personnel or manager of next season's United team. Last year the eleven was managed by Roy Barnes with Don McDiarmid as club president.

Catching Coho Off Trial Island

The salmon run which has been in progress off Trial Island for the last week or so is continuing. Quite a number of anglers were planning to go again today, weather conditions being favorable.

Some good coho catches were made Tuesday off the island. Alex Nichol took four and lost several more, and Dick Berry a pair and some losses. Flasher and minnow are being used successfully, but Nichol took two of his with minnow and lake troll gear.

McMAHON SOLD

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The American Hockey League Buffalo Bisons announced tonight the outright sale of Mike McMahon to the Springfield Indians. McMahon, a burly defenceman, was acquired by the Bisons from Montreal Canadiens.

Jokers Capture Opener Of Lacrosse Playoffs

Roy Woolsey's Jokers took the first game of the boxla league playoffs last night as they handed Foul Bay a 9 to 4 setback. The game was the first in a best two-out-of-three series, with the winners to meet the winners of the Nanaimo-T.A.C. series in the final.

Jokers opened strongly, with Larry Booth getting their initial marker just before the six-minute mark. This was followed by another Joker counter by Cliff Scroggie to make it 2 to 0. Jack Walker increased the margin to three goals as the period ended.

Foul Bay hit the scoring column in the second session on Vic Sage's tally, but successive goals by Ralph Temple and Tommy Joyce of Jokers more than offset the effort. Wilf Scott put a screend shot past Bill Andrews, in the Joker net, to leave the score at 5 to 2 at the half.

After the rest session Foul Bay showed new life and came up with a threatening drive. While goalie Thompson of Foul Bay succeeded in closing the gate on Jokers, his teammates rang up a pair of counters, by Len Scott and Tom Halbert, to make it 5 to 4 at three-quarter time.

Gordie Ellis found the net for the sixth Joker marker after only seven seconds of the final stanza. Another blackshirt goal came from Ray Douglas to make it 7 to 4 for Jokers. Bill Andrews, who blanked his rivals in the first quarter, duplicated the trick in the last period. Ken Banks and Tommy Joyce each added clinchers as the Woolseymen walked off the floor with a 9 to 4 victory.

Thompson made 18 saves, while Andrews turned aside 17 shots. Joyce was the only player able to garner more than a single tally, his pair giving him top honors.

Second game of the series is scheduled for Thursday, at Stevenson Park, starting at 6.30.

Teams and scores follow:

Jokers: Andrews, Stewart, Booth 1, Ellis 1, Temple 1, Joyce 2, Harding, McMillan, Douglas 1, Walker 1, Pellow, Scroggie 1, Ovcharick, Banks 1.

Foul Bay: Thompson, W. Scott 1, Sage 1, Crockett, Halbert 1, L. Scott 1, Malcolm, J. Thompson, Hudson, Shubrooke.

Haddad Registers Easy Victory In Second Engagement

LONDON (CP)—Canada today had its first holder of an Olympic first place since the 1948 games began unveiling champions nearly two weeks ago, but whether the position would be permanent was another matter.

It took disqualification of the Swedish entry to put Paul McLaughlin of Toronto out in front in the firefly-class yachting event at Torquay, Devonshire.

With two races to go, McLaughlin has 3,957 points, as against Sweden's 3,944. Holland has 3,329; United States, 3,269; Uruguay, 3,069; Britain, 2,876.

BRITISH PROTEST

A British protest brought about Sweden's disqualification. The British yachtsmen contended that the Swede failed to keep out of the way when being overtaken.

Other Canadian contestans in the games did well, too.

Two Canadian boxers came through with impressive victories in their respective divisions and the Domonion's basketball team, although eliminated from championship competition, scored a 45 to 40 win over Belgium in elimination play to determine 9th to 16th places.

In boxing, Eddie Haddad of Victoria advanced to the third round of lightweight competition by taking the nod over E. I. Gray of Ceylon. Armand Savoie of Montreal also reached the third round with a decision over S. C. Colon of Puerto Rico.

Haddad, superior in ring craft, never was in danger and beat a two-handed tattoo to the loser's body every time they were at close quarters. The Victoria boxer appeared to win all the rounds by a handy margin.

Spokane — Freddie Beshore, 194, El Monte, Calif., outpointed Roland Spencer, 187, Phoenix (10).

Scots-Carsteel In Deciding Soccer Battle Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—The third and final game of the Dominion Football Association series for the Dominion Cup is set for tonight. Members of both Vancouver St. Andrews and Montreal Casteel teams today expressed confidence of winning the series, now tied at a game apiece.

Manager Johnny Nestman of the Vancouver team said his players were especially happy over a D.F.A. decision to stage the third game at Broadview Field, a wider playing field than the one at Oakwood Stadium where the teams met in the opener.

"We have a couple of small wingers, Jimmy Greig and Gordie Stewart, and they're both used to a big field," said Nestman.

The Vancouver team yesterday visited Niagara Falls and was entertained at a dinner there.

Montreal won the opener 4 to 3 Saturday but Vancouver evened the series with a 3 to 1 victory Monday night.

Sox Wallop Yankees To Take Third Spot

Nine teams are still in the running today for both pennants in the major leagues as the greatest of all baseball campaigns roars past the two-thirds mark.

The list includes Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Athletics, Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees in the American League; and Boston Braves, Brooklyn Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates in the National.

Only 2½ games separate the first four clubs in the American, while 6½ separate the first five teams in the senior circuit.

By splitting a twilight-night doubleheader with Washington yesterday while the Tigers were defeating the Indians 7 to 3 in Detroit, the A's trail the Tribe by six percentage points. After the Senators won yesterday's opener 8 to 2, the A's came back to win, 11 to 2.

The Red Sox moved past New York into third place, two games off the pace, by downing the Yankees 9 to 6 in New York. The New Yorkers dropped into fourth place.

The first place Braves lost ground to each of their pursuers when they were beaten by the Giants in Boston, 6 to 5. The Dodgers whipped Philadelphia Phillies 5 to 2 in Brooklyn to take second place from the idle Cardinals by a fraction of a point. They also shaved Boston's margin to three games. The fourth-place Giants are five games behind and the fifth-place Pirates, who trounced Chicago 5 to 1 in Pittsburgh are 6½ games off the pace.

In the only other game yesterday, St. Louis Browns advanced within a game of sixth place by vanquishing the last-place Chicago White Sox 3 to 1.

Bobby Feller of Cleveland, trying for his 12th victory, went down to his 13th defeat instead when he was clubbed for eight hits and five runs in the six innings he worked.

Joe Devine, Yankee Scout, To Attend 3-Day Baseball School

Joe Devine, chief scout for the New York Yankees on the Pacific coast, will be on hand for the official opening of the New York Yankees baseball school at Athletic Park Aug. 23 it was announced by business manager Reg Patterson of the Athletics last night.

Devine will stay for three days of the school, Aug. 23, 24 and 25 and will no doubt assist the other three coaches in handling the large class of youngsters.

Recognized as one of the smartest judges of baseball talent in the business, Devine will keep his eyes open for any likely-looking prospects that may show up in the training sessions.

Following the school, Devine will remain in Victoria for the rest of the week to watch the Victoria Athletics in action against the Vancouver Capilanos.

Interest in the school is reaching a peak never before attained in baseball in the city. Many entries have been received from up-island points and the over-all total of the combined entry receiving points of Patterson's office at the ball park and the Times sports department has now reached approximate figure of 360.

Those wishing to enter the school are again reminded that the school is free and is open to anyone from the age of 12 years and up on Vancouver Island. Players must provide their own shoes, gloves and mode of uniform. All else will be supplied at the school. Dressing-rooms at the park will be placed at the disposal of the players.

Eaglettes Edge Sidney In Initial Softball Playoff

Eaglettes jumped into a one-game lead in the best-of-five series for the city senior A women's softball title last night by taking an error-ridden tilt from Sidney, 9 to 7. Second game will be played at Sidney tonight.

Both teams appeared to have the playoff jitters and rival pitchers, Ruth Oster for Eaglettes, and Kitty Frost for Sidney, received poor support.

Eaglettes made eight errors and Sidney five.

Winners took a four-run lead in the first inning when two errors, singles by Shirley Stevens and Lorna Latham and a three-base hit by Pat Yeamans did the damage. A two-run homer by Latham in the third gave Eaglettes a 6 to 0 lead. A singleton was added in the fourth to make the score 7 to 0.

Sidney bounced back with four runs in the fifth and two tallies in the sixth but the Eaglettes cinched the game with two runs in the bottom of the sixth. Jan Zaruk homered with the bases empty for one run. Sidney's final run came in the seventh but with the tying runs on the bases Oster retired the side.

Tonight at Central Park Douglas Tire and Langford will open a best-of-three series for the city championship. Hotshots and Sidney Merchnts will start a best-of-five series for the junior girls title at Lower Central tomorrow night at 6.30.

Bob Brown Burned Over MacKay Being Signed By Giants

VANCOUVER (CP) — A man cannot serve two masters especially if they are both baseball club managers.

This week Rod MacKay, 17-year-old rookie pitcher was told "to get out of this park and stay out." The park was Capilano Stadium.

During the week-end he had signed a New York Giants professional baseball contract at an Olympic, Wash., try-out camp.

And the Cap's general manager, Bob Brown, was plenty burned up when he heard about it.

"He should have signed with us," Brown said. "If our boys are going to grow up with that kind of loyalty, it's too bad."

The boy's father, Alex MacKay, said: "Rod went to the ball park with a note from Giant Scout Mickey Schader, asking Cap manager Bill Brenner to let him pitch batting practice to the Capilanos."

"Now," Brown said, "a big league scout signs him without him first seeing me, and I am expected to train him. I wouldn't help him now under any circumstances."

A formidable outfit without American imports, the Toronto club is scheduled to meet the teams of the Western Canada League starting with Winnipeg Blue Bombers Aug. 14, then Saskatchewan Roughriders of Regina Aug. 18 and Calgary Stampeders Aug. 21.

Reeve, sports columnist of the Toronto Evening Telegram, has built his club around the stars who played with Balmy Beach and Indians last season. It is rounded out into a powerful squad with a sprinkling of former Toronto High School players, some of whom Reeve expects will develop into future stars, and players with experience on other senior clubs.

However, the team Reeve will lead out west will not be as strong as the one that he'll have available for the "Beachians" city championship game against Toronto Argonauts Aug. 28 and for the start of their O.R.F.U. schedule Sept. 11 against Sarnia Imperials.

Several players notably quarterbacks Bob Porter and Nilo Ciotti, halfbacks Don Crowe, Doug Pyzer and Bill Douglas, linemen Paul McGarry, John Widman and Lorne Parken, cannot get off work to make the trip and Reeve will be forced to juggle his players around for a make-shift line-up.

Nevertheless, Reeve, returning as coach after several years in retirement, expects that the team will hold its own against the western clubs, even though they will be using as many as eight imports.

Willow Grouse Out For 1948 Hunters

There is no open season for willow grouse on Vancouver Island this year, Don Kiers of the Elliott Street office of the B.C. Game Department reported today. He said the report was given out in error that there was an open season this year. Kiers also reported the 1948 blue grouse season is from Sept. 11 to Oct. 31—not Sept. 11 to 30, as previously stated.

D.F.A. Approval

TORONTO (CP)—Approval of Sunday soccer was given Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Dominion Football Association. Sunday games will be played only in towns and cities which permit Sunday sport.

The meeting accepted a committee recommendation that no player or club be forced to play where objection was raised on the ground of religious beliefs or any other factor. Delegates said that at present Sunday soccer is played in some communities in British Columbia and Quebec.

Predict Clear Sky For Display Tonight Of Shooting Stars

Today's cloudy sky is not likely to persist, according to the weatherman, so Victorians will probably be able to witness the annual display of flashing Perseid meteors at peak tonight and Thursday.

Composed of tiny particles no larger than grains of sand, the meteors, debris from Tuttle's Comet discovered in 1862, are sparked into fire by their rush into the earth's atmosphere, 50 miles up.

The particles rotate around the sun in a different plane than the earth. The "shooting stars" occur when the paths cross annually.

The meteors can be seen in the northeast after sunset, and appear to be coming from the constellation Perseus.

No special observations of the display will be carried out at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain, but officials will welcome reports of amateur astronomers.

Thieves Strip Car Of Its Wheels

Thieves who found an impounded car owned by Knut W. Christenson, 2714 Rock Bay Avenue, on blocks in Eric Foster's 2320 Fernwood Road garage lot during the night, removed all four wheels—complete with 16-inch tires and tubes—and made off with them.

City police report the car was impounded March 17 following an accident. The garage owner placed the value of the stolen articles at $60. Car was an ancient model Dodge.

Car Slips Brakes, Crashes Into Window

A 6x12-foot plate-glass window on the east side of the premises of McLeod-Lumsden Motors Ltd., 865 Yates Street, was shattered at 11.50 Tuesday night when a nearby car slipped its brakes and ran into it, city police report.

Police said the car, owned by Mangris H. Person, 1455 Denman Street, slipped its brakes when parked at Wilson Motors Ltd.

London Times Publisher's Son In Victoria On Educational Tour

Gavin Astor, son of the publisher of the Times of London, in Victoria today paid his first visit to the country in which his grandfather, Lord Minto, resided as Governor-General. With Mr. Astor is his attractive wife, Lady Irene, daughter of Field Marshal Haig, World War I leader.

Mr. Astor and his wife have just finished a visit to the U.S. in the course of a tour of North America in which the publisher's son is furthering his study of the newspaper business.

Following service in the Middle East with the Armored Car Regt. of the Household Cavalry during World War II, the young Mr. Astor, now 30, spent two years going through the various departments of the Times, at the conclusion of which, his father thought it a good idea to have his son travel in North America to study conditions here.

So far, Mr. Astor has been agreeably impressed with what he has found. His U.S. tour, he said today, was a complete revelation to him and he now considers it a most necessary part of any poung man's education. He was greatly impressed by the way Americans do things and found himself "quite overwhelmed by their friendliness towards Great Britain, and by their genuine desire to understand us better."

While in B.C. he nopes to see the complete phases of paper production . . . from the logging of the trees from the B.C. forests to the time the nuge rolls of paper come out of the mill.

It is not surprising that he should express a great interest in paper, for it is the shortage of it which has caused a considerable restriction on the activities of English newspapers, particularly The Times, whose policy in the face of the paper shortage has been somewhat different from the majority of British papers.

Whereas many papers, faced with the newsprint shortage, reduced their size to four pages in order to maintain circulation, The Times chose the sterner course and cut circulation.

This meant a cut of 40,000 in the paper's circulation, Mr. Astor said today, but it has meant that The Times has been able to publish a larger paper. At present, the veteran London journal publishes three eight-page and three 10-page papers a week.

Mr. Astor did not anticipate any change in the policy of The Times. The Times, he said, is still independent and as such intends to give a chance to any government that is in power, as long as it considers what the government does is for the best.

Following his visit here, Mr. Astor will continue his Canadian tour with Lady Irene and plans to leave for Britain by the middle of October.

Navy Week Program

Water polo will highlight the Navy Week swimming gala to be held at the Crystal Garden this evening at 7.30. This will be the annual competition between the Royal Navy and the Royal Canadian Navy for the coveted "Navy Trophy" at present held by the R.N., who won it last year when a team from H.M.S. Kenya defeated the R.C.N. four to one.

Cmdr. P. D. Budge, D.S.C., R.C.N., will referee the contest, while Lieut. Cmdr. J. Pratt, R.C.N., is to be the chief judge. The R.C.N. band will be in attendance.

Swimmers taking part in the races are from H.M.S. Sheffield, H.M.C.S. Ontario, the destroyer division, the reserve fleet and naval reserves under training.

Denny Walker, former Canadian Olympic swimmer, a crew member of H.M.C.S. Ontario, will be swimming for his ship. The races will feature the following events: 50-yard freestyle, 50-yard breaststroke, 50-yard backstroke, 100-yard and 200-yard freestyle, 150-yard medley relay, 100-yard freestyle relay.

Preceding the water polo, there will be an intricate trapeze display put on by the physical and recreational training staff of H.M.C.S. Naden.

The Navy Week aquatic display is being directed by Cmdr. E. P. Fairfull, R.C.N.(R), and WO. J. Arnott, R.C.N.

THURSDAY PROGRAM

On Thursday afternoon, all ships and naval establishments will again be open to visitors, with M.L. 124 making trips of the harbor every 30 minutes from 2 to 4.30.

Starting at 1.30, there will also be the Pacific Naval Command track and field meet on the navy lower playing field on Colville Road, Esquimalt. The R.C.N. and R.N. will be competing for trophies.

At 7 Thursday evening there will be an association football match at Macdonald Park with the R.C.N. band in attendance, and at 8, the ceremony of "Beating the Retreat" will be performed by the Royal Marines and Royal Marine Band of H.M.S. Sheffield at Memorial Park, Esquimalt.

Wants Stop Signs At Dangerous Corner

Dangers to life and limb in traffic at the Richmond Avenue-Haultain Street intersection is stressed in a letter to Mayor Percy George today from Harold A. Lees, 2612 Richmond Avenue.

Mr. Lees claims hardly a day goes by without a near accident at this corner, and he suggests stop signs be installed on both sides of Haultain Street entering Richmond Avenue.

Carpenters Get $1.55 An Hour

Commencing Sept. 1 carpenters in the greater Courtenay district will receive a 15 cent per hour cost of living bonus, bringing the hourly wage rate of carpenters to $1.55, following a meeting Monday night between representatives of Local Union 1638, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Courtenay Contractors' Association.

The general contractors and union were in complete accord that cost of construction was getting beyond the average wage earner's means and were convinced that if all wages were attached to the cost of living index, it would have a tendency to slow the ever-rising cost of basic materials.

Conciliation Board For Dispute Here

The Quarter Cab Co. Ltd., Victoria, and the Taxicab, Stage and Bus Drivers' Union, No. 151 (A.F.L.) have been asked to name representatives to a conciliation board which will attempt to solve a dispute between the company and its 12 employees represented by the union.

The B.C. Labor Relations Board reported today the plans for the conciliation board and said that in their attempt to negotiate a collective agreement the parties found they could not agree on a wage scale and retroactive pay.

Welfare Group Supports Playground Resolution

The Welfare Playground Committee composed of representatives of the Welfare Council and Recreation Council of Greater Victoria today endorsed a petition of James Bay residents calling for installation of sanitary conveniences at James Bay and Todd Park playgrounds.

In a letter signed by H. R. Anderson, acting secretary, the committee says the conveniences should be made available as soon as materials and labor permit.

For redecoration purposes, the Victoria Public Library will be closed from Aug. 16 to Sept. 1 inclusive. Extra books may be taken out this week.

The Vancouver Island Rabbit Breeders' Association will meet at Prince Robert House Friday at 8. Final plans for the show to be held at Saanichton, Labor Day, will be made.

Release of a section of an easement for a water main crossing a road in a new subdivision of Royal Colwood Golf Club property was asked of the city today by the club.

A meeting of property-owners of Deep Cove district will be held at the Deep Cove School next Wednesday at 7.45, to consider the formation of a Deep Cove property-owners' association.

Acting Premier Says Ottawa Should Pay All Highway Costs

Acting Premier Herbert Anscomb thinks the federal government should carry all of the cost of a Trans-Canada Highway.

He expressed this opinion in a letter today to M. Frank Hunter, city clerk, in which he acknowledges receipt of two resolutions passed recently by the City Council.

The resolutions favored federal aid in construction of inter-provincial highways, and the establishment of a Federal Highway Commission.

Of the first, Acting Premier Anscomb says: "I agree." But of the second, he says: "I do not think I could support that because, I fancy, it would be a duplication of an existing situation."

By that, Mr. Anscomb explained, every province has its own public works department fully equipped and competent to deal with the job of highways necessary in that province.

"B.C.'s standard of highway construction naturally is different to that required on the prairies, and it seems to me that all the national government has to do is to agree on a set standard in each province, and on a basis on which it will subscribe to the cost of construction undertaken by each province," the acting premier said.

He personally believes the Dominion government should pay all costs of a coast-to-coast road because "it naturally would check it from an engineering and accounting viewpoint as a matter of course."

Building Permits For $30,000 Work

Building permits calling for $30,000 construction have been issued so far this week by J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector.

Five of the permits are for new houses. G. Farmer, Anscomb Place, plans a $5,500 four-room house at 862 Somenos Street; C. Gore, View Street, a four-room $5,500 house at 858 Somenos Street; S. C. Raley, 320 Richmond Avenue, a $6,000 four-room house at 362 Richmond Avenue; Mrs. N. Gwilt, 2942 Quadra Street, a $4,000 four-room house at 1320 Finlayson Street; H. Eastham, 1021A Carberry Gardens, a $6,500 four-room house at 927 Richmond Avenue.

J. McGinnis, 140 Menzies Street, was issued a permit to carry out $1,000 alterations to an apartment at that address. Several permits for minor alterations also were issued.

The quarterly dance of the Cordova Bay Community Club will be held at McMorran's Pavilion Friday night, commencing at 9.30. Proceeds will be in aid of the fund to build a much-needed community hall in the district.

Do you know these signs of wasteful tire wear?
ANSWERS:
(a) Excessive wear in centre of tread, caused by over-inflation.
(b) Scalloped appearance, caused by tire being out of balance, and possibly by faulty brakes.
(c) Feathered edges, caused by faulty alignment.
These conditions mean wasteful tire wear. They can also lead to blowouts and defective steering.

Feller Admits Loss Of His Fast Ball; Control Big Problem

CLEVELAND (AP)—Baseball fans now can end a dispute which has been raging for the last few years. Bob Feller admits that he has lost his old-time fast ball.

The former boy wonder pitcher of Cleveland Indians sounded the demise of his fireball with this simple statement: "I throw the ball as hard as I ever did—but it doesn't travel as fast as it did a few years ago."

Feller, blasted from the mound at Detroit yesterday, made the same statement regarding his celebrated strike-out pitch 10 years ago.

Then a fuzzy-cheeked teen-ager, he was knocked out of the box by Boston and declared he had "lost my fast ball." He fanned 10 Philadelphia batters the next time out, however, and the statement was dismissed as a youthful whim.

But now, in the throes of his worst season, Feller was asked to explain further the cause of his pitching woes.

"Speed isn't my major problem," he said. "My biggest concern is control—or, I should say, the lack of control.

"I have been getting behind too many batters. Then, when I try to groove a couple to get even—it turns out to be a base-hit or a home-run pitch."

Feller has lost 13 and won only 11 this season.

Oil Issues Lead Market Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Oil issues led a late comeback in the stock Market Wednesday following a broad decline.

Losses held a decisive majority in late selling, but they were small and considerably under the widest setbacks of the day.

Skelly Oil dropped more than five points at one time, but this was later trimmed. Sinclair, Standard Oil (N.J.) and Texas Co. managed to cross to the plus side.

Nickel Plate common and preferred were among the hardest hit issues. Texas Gulf Sulphur was another soft spot.

Canadian issues were down. Hiram Walker and Distillers Seagrams dropped ½. Dome Mines and McIntyre lost ¼. Canadian Pacific eased ⅛.

On the curb, losses running to above a point were posted for Crole Petroleum, Pantepec Oil, Northrop Aircraft, Derby Oil, and N.J. Zinc.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—All grains showed a firm trend today in a moderately active trading session on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Shippers and American houses were credited with buying in oats, while export interests made purchases in barley. Offerings were well absorbed.

In the rye trade seaboard firms continued to buy in connection with accumulations for export. Hedging sales in connection with the new crop were well taken and prices closed higher.

Today's export business saw 300,000 bushels of Canadian wheat allocated to the United Kingdom under the long-term agreement. Class two wheat prices were increased 1 cent from Tuesday.

Billy Rose Offers To Pep Up Opera

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Rose wants to streamline the opera.

And if the financially-wobbly Metropolitan will let him try it, he will "personally guarantee it against deficit."

The columnist and showman made his offer as the Metropolitan Opera Association planned to meet this week with heads of various artists and show workers' union.

The meeting is a last-minute effort to change the association's mind about canceling the coming season of the Met.

But the opera directors have promised to consider Rose's offer at "the first opportunity."

"In the belief that a bit of streamlining would find favor with lovers of good music," Rose said, "I would introduce modern lighting, staging, choreography and certain other elements of present-day stagecraft."
